Red Threat Won't Make Us Back Up: President Says Nation Realizes Danger Linked With Berlin; Stands Pat on Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States has no intention of fighting a ground war in Europe.

At a news conference, however, he declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

Will Protect Rights

He said firmly the United States will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people around Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

He added, however, that those who are advocating still greater defense spending should have the courage to back higher taxes to pay for it.

He was obviously still standing pat on his defense program in the face of Democratic criticisms.

Eisenhower was asked for his reaction to Khrushchev's proposal for a four-power guard in West Berlin.

The President replied with some asperity that he doesn't ever expect to be in the business of reacting instantly to one of Mr. Khrushchev's wisecracks or whatever the Soviet Premier calls them.

Debate Before Decision

The free world is going to use the same democratic procedure that the United States uses in dealing with such problems, Eisenhower said. He said that is the process of debate before decision.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that the Communists might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

Much of the President's 20-minute session with reporters was taken up by discussion of the defense picture and the Berlin crisis. This was the eighth regular weekly news conference in a row, by a mark he set in 1954.

The consecutive string this year adds up to nine and a record if the President's Jan. 14 session with newsmen at the National Press Club is counted.

Other Matters

Today's session touched also on these matters:

Tax Tables Show Increase Under Rockefeller Plan

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The following tables show income tax increases under Gov. Rockefeller's $2,000,577,797 budget.

The tax plan provides a $10 credit for single taxpayers and a $25 credit for married couples.

The first three tables show the tax under the so-called short form, giving a flat 10 per cent deduction up to $1,000 (although deductions may be itemized).

Gross Income	Current Tax	New Tax	Change
Single Taxpayer—
$3,500	$55	$57	$2
5,000	100	106	6
8,000	235	250	15
10,000	350	375	25

GOP Plans Fast Work On Budget Quick Move Seen In Senate Today

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Legislature's Republican leaders moved swiftly to pass Gov. Rockefeller's two-million-dollar budget today while the broken Assembly revolt still was under control.

The Senate was scheduled to pass the trimmed $2,000,577,797 version of the budget first. No trouble was expected there.

Assembly GOP leaders, having cracked a rebellion in the ranks Tuesday, appeared confident. But they were taking no chances.

Heck to Rush Action

Speaker Oswald D. Heck hoped to rush the record tax and spending program through his house as soon as the Senate was finished. He had pledges of at least 78 votes—only two more than the majority he needed.

At last count, 14 Republican assemblymen were still "off the reservation" and grumbling. But Heck said he expected a few of them would return to the party fold when the floor vote was taken.

Democrats, who oppose Rockefeller's plan for raising income taxes, are in the minority in both houses.

Starts April

Meanwhile, the Rockefeller administration prepared to put the tax system into effect April 1, the start of the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Collections will be shifted to a payroll withholding basis and taxes will be raised by about 112 million dollars, as personal exemptions are cut to $600 apiece.

Current exemptions are $1,000 for a single taxpayer, $2,500 for a married couple filing a joint return and $400 for each dependent.

Reginald T. Ayo was booked at the Ulster County jail at 7:15 p. m. on charges of second degree assault, first degree attempted robbery and first degree grand larceny.

He was returned here by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff Fred Brinkman, who brought him back from Baton Rouge, La.,

Flash Fire Causes Heavy Damage to Ellenville Home

A flash fire of undetermined origin caused heavy damage this morning to the one-story ranch house of Ellenville attorney Louis Berger, located at the corner of Elm and Church Streets.

Berger's wife and children were not home at the time of the fire which was reported at 10:10 a. m. it was learned.

It was reported the fire started in the living room. Two workmen were reportedly cleaning the walls with paint remover when one of them heard what was described as a minor explosion.

turned to look and discovered the entire house was enveloped in flames. Walls and ceilings were described as severely scorched.

Ellenville's three fire companies responded under the direction of Chief Robert Dawson and the blaze was brought under control within a half hour, it was reported.

Three Are Hurt In Mishaps; One Is Given Summons

Three persons were injured in two vehicular accidents reported early Thursday evening by Kingston state police and removed to Kingston Hospital.

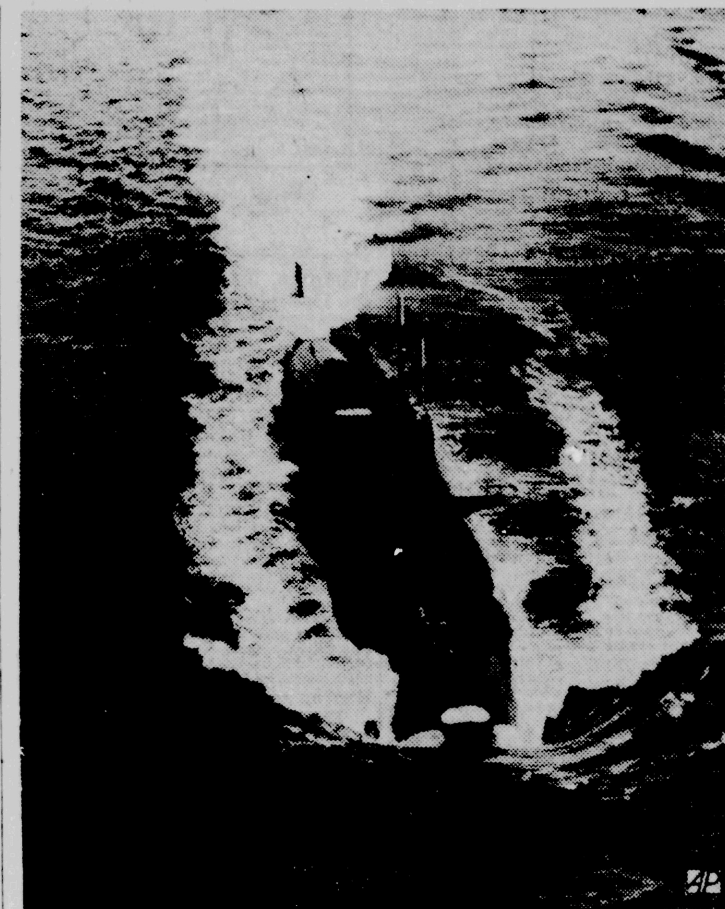

Injured were Charles McLaughlin, 27, of Saugerties; Marie Scarselli, 26, of Saugerties; and Joseph Assion, 51, of Route 5, Kingston.

Troopers reported at 7:15 p. m. that a car operated by Anthony Scarselli, 25, of Saugerties was in collision with another driven by McLaughlin on the Glasco Turnpike, Route 32, in Glasco.

Struck on Right Side

State police said Scarselli was headed east on the Glasco Turnpike and McLaughlin north on

Changing Boundary Is Way to Save: Wilson

Changing a section of the western boundary line of Kingston is the most direct and economic way of solving a problem pertinent to building the Route 209 bypass, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson noted in a recent letter to Mayor Edwin F. Radel.

The Common Council is slated to meet at 8 p. m. today in special session to adopt a "home rule message" to be forwarded to Albany so that legislation changing the city's boundary line may be enacted there.

Upon learning of the change as proposed by the state public works department, Wilson said, he contacted the latter to learn "what effect this realignment would have upon the city and county."

Problem for City

A proposed change in the course of the Esopus creek where it makes an oxbow turn west of the city, he learned, created a "problem for the City of Kingston in connection with acquisition of rights of way for a portion of the new route."

In order to save city taxpayers extra costs for acquisition of rights, he said, "I asked the State Department of Public Works for their advice, and a plan whereby said costs would not be borne by the city. They studied the various methods of procedure. Special legislation was discarded because such legislation usually becomes controversial."

Their conclusion, he said, "was to recommend a proposal to make a minute revision in the charter of the City of Kingston" (Continued on Page 13, Col. 1)

Man Jailed Here As Swindler Seen Plotter for Judge

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-convict William M. Singer, former managing director of the Shelton Towers Hotel here, was named Tuesday in court as the mastermind of alleged loan frauds laid to former Westchester County Judge George A. Brenner.

The description came from Asst. Dist. Atty. Allen Harris.

Swindled Kingsburg

Singer is the same man who was sentenced in Kingston, N. Y., 27 years ago for swindling a local family out of more than $30,000.

General Sessions Judge Thomas Dickens held Singer in $50,000 bail on charges of forgery and grand larceny.

Harris said Brenner, now under indictment, was a willing accomplice of Singer in a conspiracy that led to Brenner's being charged with larceny of $626,300.

11 Counts of Bribery Linked to Oil Deals Three Plead Innocent, March 30 Date For Motions: Trial for Two April 13th

Two additional indictments involving three men were returned Tuesday afternoon by the special grand jury investigating "kickbacks" in Ulster County.

The report was made to Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg shortly after 3 p. m.

This makes four indictments returned since the probe began early last summer. The total including that of Edwin W. Ashby, former Ulster County commissioner of jurors, who was sentenced to six months in jail (to run concurrently) on two counts of second degree perjury. He has until March 16 to make motions on an appeal.

Indicted Tuesday was Morgan D. Ryan and Ernest A. Steuding who are charged with conspiracy in a joint indictment, and Austin Boyd Jr., who is charged with bribery in an 11-count indictment.

Counsel for the defendants waived reading of the indictments, entered pleas of innocent and Ryan and Steuding were admitted to $1,000 while bail in the Boyd case was set at $5,000.

Boyd, former manager of the Kingston plant of Lansell Company, is now vice-president of the Lansell Company of Hackensack, N. J., road oil distributors, and lives in New Jersey.

Trial of Two April 13

Counsel was given until March 30 to make motions addressed to the indictments and the Ryan-Steuding case was set down for trial on April 13 before Justice Henry Clay Greenberg. An extra panel of trial jurors will be summoned for that trial.

Special prosecutor Bernard Tompkins stated in court that the Ryan-Steuding indictment would be moved next for trial ahead of a prior indictment under which Steuding is charged with unlawfully receiving money while a public official, to wit while he was serving as superintendent of the Kingston Department of Public Works.

Charge Is Felony

The bribery charge against Boyd is a felony, punishable by a maximum term of 10 years in prison under each of the 11 counts of the indictment or a $5,000 fine or both. If found guilty under all 11 counts a total sentence of 110 years in prison could be imposed.

The conspiracy charge against Ryan and Steuding is a misdemeanor and punishable by a jail sentence and, or, fine.

All 11 counts in the Boyd indictment charge that he "did unlawfully, wilfully and corruptly" offered and gave bribes to town superintendents of highways of the County of Ulster between April 1954 and January 1958. The Reuter probe into "kickbacks" began early in 1958.

Cent-a-Gallon Named

Specifically Boyd is charged with having paid or offered to pay a one cent a gallon kickback to the following town superintendents of highways "with intent to influence the officials to purchase road oil from the Lansell Company of Kingston."

Howard Trowbridge, former town superintendent of highways of the Town of Olive, $500 in or about August and September 1956.

Howard Trowbridge, former town superintendent of Olive, $300 in or about November 1956.

Howard Trowbridge, former town superintendent of Olive, $300, in or about January 1958.

Burton Barringer, former town superintendent of Town of Rochester, in or about April and May 1957, offered and proposed to pay Barringer one cent per gallon for each gallon of road oil purchased.

Burton Barringer, former Town Superintendent of Town of Rochester, in or about December 1954, $190.

Burton Barringer, former Town Superintendent of Town of Rochester, in or about September 1955, $387, paid in two installments.

Burton Barringer, former Town of Rochester Town Superintendent, in or about July 1956, $70.

Grant Avery, former Town Superintendent of Highways, Town of Olive, in or about November 1954, approximately $100.

Grant Avery, former Town of Olive Superintendent of Highways, in or about September and October 1957, $70.

George Knickerbocker, former Town Superintendent of Town of New Paltz, between July 1955 and December 1955, approximately $600 paid in several installments.

Exact Time Unknown

Morgan D. Ryan, presently resource assistant with the Ulster County Welfare Department, and Ernest A. Steuding, presently associated with the Walter Truck Company and a former superintendent of the Kingston Department of Public Works, are jointly charged with violation of Sections 378 and 1822 of the Penal Law.

The indictment charged the two defendants "at a time prior to May 21, 1951, the exact time being to the Grand Jury unknown, and up to and on or about April 11, 1955, in the County of Ulster, did unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly conspire, combine, confederate and agree with each other, and with one Lester B. Stagg, not a defendant herein, and with divers other persons whose names are to the Grand Jury unknown, to commit

Clothiers Buy Pan-Am Parcel; Will Begin Soon

Property on Albany Avenue Extension—a parcel of it the old Pan-Am field—has been sold to Robert Hall, national clothing chain, for construction of a store dealing in ladies and men's wearing apparel it was learned today.

The property, owned by David and Joseph Gruberg, of this city, was sold two weeks ago and construction will begin as soon as weather permits, David Gruberg told The Freeman today.

140 By 200 Parcel

The building will be constructed by Shover, Jansen & Schline, 53 Shufeldt Street, it was reported.

Gruberg described the land sold to the clothing chain as 140 by 200 feet, and is located between the IBM Military Products supply depot and the Fromer Petroleum Company.

The property has been used for many years as a carnival site during the summer months and another part of it is occupied by Gruberg Auto Sales.

Gruberg said the used car lot office has been moved to the north property line and the cars are being moved to a lot adjacent to the newly purchased property.

Parking for 50 Cars

The store, Gruberg estimated, will occupy a space 125 by 70 feet with parking facilities for 50 cars. The building will be well lighted and advertised by a 45 foot pylon sign. Opening date of the store will be announced in the near future.

Robert Hall operates stores throughout the country with a heavy concentration in the New York City metropolitan area. It was reported that the Kingston store is one of 40 the company plans to open in 1959.

Police Claim Tavern Talk Hatched Bank Holdup Plot

By HENRIETTA LEITH
MASSAPEQUA, N. Y. (AP)—

How do a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavernkeeper suddenly turn into a gang of machine-gun bank robbers?

Authorities pondered this question today as they held four Long Island men accused of the $72,000 holdup of a bank here Monday.

The four were nabbed in less than 24 hours, and all the loot taken from the Security National Bank was recovered.

It all started across the bar one night, say police, when a joke about how to solve money worries suddenly turned into a serious crime plot.

The scene is the neighborhood tavern operated by Anatole Rylsky and his wife, Alexandria, in West Babylon, a Long Island suburban town.

Anatole, whose friends call him Andy, is behind the bar. He is a round-faced, husky ex-wrestler who occasionally drinks more than he should of the stuff behind the bar, and occasionally flies in a rage at his wife and teen-age children, but most of the time is a pleasant fellow.

Once Andy went on a water diet for 21 days to "clean out" his body. Once his wife told him he should see a psychiatrist but he didn't take to the idea.

On the other side of the bar are several of Andy's pals and regular customers, who often visit him in the Rylskys' apartment upstairs as well as in the tavern.

Tom Parks and Bill McHenry are younger fellows, 27 and 31 respectively. Dick Hatch, who is 53, is a plumber with a wife and two daughters and a home at Bay Shore just east of West Babylon. A husky, handsome fellow with a crew cut, he looks like he might be a policeman and actually is the son of a retired New York City detective. He frequently complains of "blinding" headaches.

McHenry sells insurance and lives in West Babylon with his wife and three children. His father, a prosperous real estate man, is president of the West Babylon Board of Education. McHenry had polio when he was a child, and was thrilled when he was able to get into the Navy during World War II. In fact he liked wearing a uniform so much that after the war he joined the Marines for a hitch.

Hatch has four children. Like Rylsky he was in the Army before World War II, but he isn't as crazy about military stuff as Andy is. For many years he has been the quiet, bespectacled blueprint man in the state highway office. He hasn't been particularly pinched for money, because his wife's mother left her a tidy sum, although his brother-in-law has control of it.

The four are drinking beer, and

Wagner to Make New Pitch on Off-Track Bets

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner will go to Albany Saturday in a new effort to sell his administration's off-track betting proposal to Gov. Rockefeller and Republican leaders of the Legislature.

The Democratic mayor faces considerable opposition among the GOP leaders to the plan to legalize off-track betting on horse races and tax it to help the city raise needed additional revenue. Wagner will also press at the conference Saturday for approval of his other legislative proposals on New York City fiscal matters, including proposed new taxes.

The mayor requested the Albany meeting in line with his efforts to find 151 million dollars more income for the next fiscal year.

The city council, after spirited debate Tuesday, asked the Legislature to approve the off-track betting bill. The vote on the resolution was 20-1, with 1 councilman abstaining.

Detective Must Face Trial on Bribe Charge

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — West New York Detective Capt. Chris Gleitsmann will stand trial this spring, probably May 18, in an alleged bribe offer.

Deputy Atty. Gen. John J. Bergin said Tuesday Superior Court Judge Charles Broadhurst had set four alternative dates and May 18 was the most suitable. Gleitsmann is charged with offering a bribe in Binghamton, N. Y. to two New York State policemen if gangster Carmine Galante of Brooklyn did not go to jail on a traffic charge. Galante was convicted and jailed.

Gleitsmann is also charged with using a West New York police car to drive to Binghamton.

LOCAL HOSPITALS ACCREDITED

The Kingston Hospital and the Benedictine Hospital again have been placed on the accredited hospital list by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Accreditation of a hospital is a mark of distinction and earned by high standards of care.

Both hospitals voluntarily submitted to a survey of their facilities and its patient care. Accreditation is a badge of recognition which a hospital can display to its community to prove that it conforms to high standards of patient care.

The commission director says the surveys rate a hospital on certain basic requirements such as a safe physical plant free from fire hazards, proper supervision and review by the medical staff of the clinical work done in the hospital, maternal, infant and anesthetic death rates that are not excessively high, adequate medical records, ethical practices, investigation of all tissue removed at operation, mortality rates that are within reasonable limits, proper nursing care and proper administrative and medical staff organization.

The accreditation program is a tribute not only to the organizations which support it but to the hospitals which make it possible by their willingness to have their patient care judged by objective criteria.

TWO-RING CIRCUS

*With the Democrats finally settled on Los Angeles for their 1960 convention, we seem sure now to have a two-city show for our next presidential carnival. For the Republicans are reported firm against going to California this time.

Vice President Nixon, the leading GOP candidate, is said to favor Chicago or Philadelphia for the Republican affair. Travel costs may be a good deal less, and schedules at the convention can be fitted much more neatly into prime television time.

The GOP, still rocking from its 1958 smacking, is not about to pass up such advantages with a careless shrug.

Similar arguments have been made by some Democrats, including a few whose names may be in the final running for the prize.

But after their party's big score last fall the majority of top Democratic professionals seem persuaded to play it risky. Winners can always get the money. Corraling a TV audience could be tougher, and the pros may sing a different tune when they're actually trying to get a rating for their show.

Anyway, the thing is set. Hollywood may have to invent some new Oscars to cover some of the performances we're going to get in 1960.

Nehru proposes a world alignment based on cooperation, not competition. Russia's definition of cooperation kills this suggestion.

IF THERE WERE NO ADVERTISING

Some people still think that advertising represents needless economic waste. Anyone who feels this way would do well to ponder an editorial observation made by the Portland, Oregon, Journal during the recently observed Advertising Recognition Week: "Without advertisements, the cost of a single copy of a newspaper would be so high nobody could afford to buy it. And without advertising, the public would be denied the tremendous variety of entertainment, news and cultural programs offered on radio and television. It is true that the public pays for the advertising through the price of the article sold, but the mass production which advertising makes possible reduces the unit price far below what it would be without this stimulus, and advertising cost per unit is often inconsequential. For instance, advertising expenditure on a loaf of bread is less than the cost of the wrapper."

The Journal concludes that without advertising "... the nation's economy would stutter and stop." The ads create demand

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

BRITAIN'S DIFFICULT PROBLEM

The awkward geographical situation of Great Britain has been brought about by the change of weapons. When Great Britain ruled the seas, she was the first nation on Earth, British policy dominating mankind. The development of the airplane and the submarine, the bomb, the rocket and the intercontinental missile, make the British Isles indefensible.

In fact, Germany and France also face the danger of being squeezed between the two non-European powers that are struggling for the maintenance of their systems. By air, by submarine, by missile, Great Britain is not more than half an hour away from the enemy even if the United States puts all its strength to protect the British Isles, the fighting could be in British skies and the damage done to Great Britain would be enormous.

This is the fundamental reason for Prime Minister Macmillan's effort to discover a device for delaying, postponing, eliminating war as a means for settling international differences. The times have changed since the days when Nelson could down the French fleet and Wellington could send Napoleon to his end. As long as there is even a semblance of peace in the world, British manufacturing know-how and financial skill will assume its share of leadership, but a third general war, in which modern unconventional weapons will be used could completely wipe out the British Isles. How many hydrogen bombs would it take? Not more than half a dozen, probably.

If the Prime Minister had to accept Khrushchev's insults, it was not more than Winston Churchill was forced to take at Yalta where Roosevelt and Stalin divided the world between them behind Churchill's back, and Churchill took what he had to because, as he once put it, he represented a dependent nation.

When President Eisenhower asks us to interest ourselves less in the prospects of war and turn to other subjects, it is like asking a mother not to worry about whether her child has a cold or is coming down with polio. This is particularly true about British public opinion. The British having been straffed twice by German planes and having gone through blackouts and hunger, recognize their peril.

The English Channel which protected them from the days of William the Conqueror, is no longer a defensive moat. The Atlantic, over which the British presided for centuries, is no longer only a passage-way for ships but is a series of air-lanes over which the Russians can fly. The atomic submarine, which is now American and which the Russians will undoubtedly build in due course, knows neither time nor obstacle. Atomic bombs reduce time and space by traveling airborne in any direction, over the North Pole, along the equator, neither cold nor heat being impediments.

The so-called weak and backward nations which once composed the British Empire and which once provided troops as well as trade, have demanded and obtained independence of one kind or another. But that political independence has not changed their geography. India is where India always was, prenable to conquering armies that manage to come through the passes of the mountains which separate India from Russia and China. Currently, the influence of Red China is moving southward and westward so rapidly that India squirms before the power of Mao Tse-tung but can get no aid of any real value from Great Britain.

In any general war, India would be divided between Russia and China, and the United States would have to step in to try to save the Indian Ocean from becoming a Red Chinese sea.

Serious men in Great Britain, those with a sense of geography, are worried about what the new weapons will do to their country. Let it be said truthfully that those who are not fearful of the consequences of the next war, whether they be Russian, British or American, are fools who cannot read the sign-boards of history.

On the other hand, Russian imperialism has become a major nuisance. The Soviet propaganda has worn itself out. What is now as clear as anything can be in history is that Khrushchev wants and needs a massive victory, by diplomacy if possible, by limited wars if possible, by a general war if there is no alternative. The danger to mankind in Khrushchev's political necessities is tragically enormous.

★ Dr. Jordan Says: ★
Atomic Medicine Now Used
In Thyroid Gland Disorder
BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

An inquirer writes that her mother is troubled with an over-active thyroid gland and that she has been given radioactive iodine. She requests more information about this difficulty and asks what it all means for her mother.

It seems best to say first that several different names are often used for what is really much the same thing. Overactive thyroid gland, toxic goiter, Graves' disease, exophthalmic goiter and von Basedow's disease are examples.

No matter which of these names is used, the trouble lies with the thyroid gland. This is a structure of specialized tissue lying in front of the neck and sometimes extending down a little way under the breast plate.

It is a gland of internal secretion and manufactures a chemical or hormone which is emptied directly into the blood stream and therefore carried all through the body.

An enlargement of the thyroid gland, or goiter, can produce any one of several different symptoms. The enlargement may be general and the entire gland involved. This is called a diffuse goiter.

The gland may be irregularly enlarged in the form of growths or nodules and this is called a nodular goiter. In such cases, the gland feels rough and irregular. It can be enlarged likewise by cysts and other conditions.

Even when enlarged, the thyroid gland may continue to function fairly satisfactorily. But sometimes the secretion becomes excessive or abnormal and causes toxic symptoms.

Stated in another way, one can have a simple diffuse nodular goiter, a simple diffuse enlargement, a toxic nodular goiter or a toxic goiter.

The treatment of a goiter depends on many factors which have to be analyzed in each case individually. Sometimes it is treated simply by watching the condition rather than by any active measures.

A toxic goiter, however, either of the nodular type or the diffuse type, generally requires some active treatment.

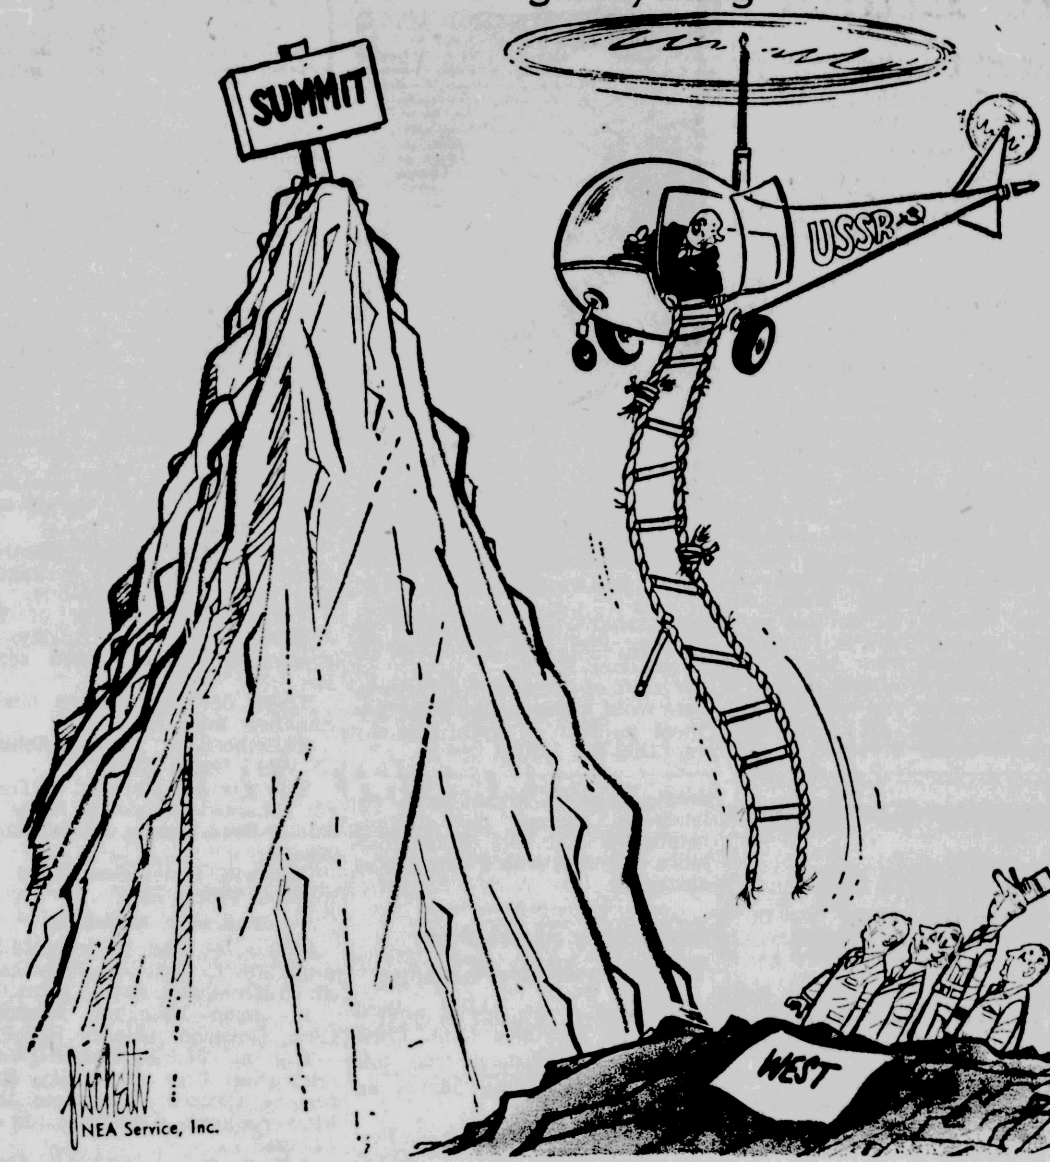

Up to the past few years the best treatment was almost always an operation, that is, removal of a considerable portion of the diseased thyroid tissue. This was a highly successful procedure and is still sometimes not only advisable but also performed with great success.

Now, other methods of treatment are available which are effective, at least in selected cases. Most important of these is the drinking of a fluid containing iodine which has been made radioactive. Needless to say, such treatments must be given by an expert and the dose decided only after careful study.

Toxic goiter is still an important medical disorder, but it is less common than in the past, probably because of the widespread use of iodized salt.

—and it's from the demand for goods and services that we get our living.

"C'mon---And Remember I'm Not Guaranteeing Anything"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Eisenhower administration is counting on a spring and summer boom to reduce unemployment.

"My guess is that a lot of surprises are in store," says Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

"If the U. S. economy increases at the same rates of recovery experienced after the recessions of 1948-49 and 1953-54, it is far from unreasonable to project that unemployment will drop to three million," he declares.

Unemployment was just under three million in the boom years 1953-56-57. It averaged 4.6 million in 1958. It was 4.7 million in January, 1959—230,000 above January 1958.

February, 1959, unemployment figures will be released March 10. Unemployment normally increases in January, February and March. It drops in April as farm labor picks up.

If that happens again this year and unemployment does drop below three million during the summer and fall, the Eisenhower administration is saved a lot of money and embarrassment. If it doesn't happen, the administration is in for a peck of trouble.

IN CONGRESS, the pressure is already on to renew last year's unemployment insurance extended benefits, now due to expire March 31. If they end, 350,000 unemployed will lose their payments. There's also pressure to impose new, higher federal standards for state unemployment insurance.

The drive is on again to increase minimum wage payments from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The administration hasn't made up its mind what to recommend on this.

Mayors of cities where there is still large-scale unemployment—like the Michigan automobile centers, textile towns in New England and hard coal areas in Pennsylvania—want Congress to pass a 300-million-dollar aid program.

On top of this, union labor leaders are now making a major pitch on the unemployment issue. A protest conference in Washington has been called for this spring.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council also announces it will go after the 35-hour week—presumably with no reduction in pay—to spread work among the unemployed.

THE OTHER HALF of the package is that unions will seek sizeable wage increases in their new contracts.

The paradox in this situation is that they're counting on a widespread pickup in production, productivity and profit margins to justify demands for higher pay. That is, they're talking greater unemployment and greater prosperity at the same time.

There are nearly 150 major union contracts covering over four million workers up for renegotiation in 1959. Biggest is the steel wage contract expiring June 30. It sets the pattern which many other lines of business must follow.

The possibility of strikes in steel, rails, shipping, meat packing and rubber industries is not minimized. Any large scale unemployment caused by strikes would doom the administration's hope for recovery.

EFFECTS OF AUTOMATION on employment and unemployment are the source of another conflict between labor and government economists. Labor people blame much of the unemployment on automation, which they say destroys jobs.

Dr. Saulnier, on the other hand, says the sought-after five per cent annual increase in production can be achieved only by increased automation—not just increasing the labor force.

In the past, he says, the three per cent annual growth has divided this way: one per cent from increase in the labor force and two per cent from increased productivity.

It is conceded by both sides that the labor force is going to increase steadily during the next six years. The labor force is growing faster than new jobs are being created. This is considered the basic cause of today's high unemployment.

Dr. Saulnier's view is that it will take now savings and greater capital formation to create the new jobs to cure the unemployment.

'Bossism' in Senate Seen A Failing in U. S. System

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When Sen. William Proxmire, of Wisconsin, Democrat, says that the Democrats, with their two-thirds membership in the Senate, are not functioning as a majority that is representative of the people, he is exposing a serious weakness in the American system. What the Wisconsin Senator criticizes in his second speech of a series is the way policy is determined by the Democratic party in the Senate. He says:

"The cold fact is that Democratic policy in the Senate is made entirely on an ad lib off-the-cuff basis. The initiative as well as the final decision is almost always resolved by the Majority Leader himself on the basis of his own judgment of what is desirable and what is possible."

"This is not to say that the individual Democratic Senator doesn't play a part in determining policy. His individual vote and whatever influence he may have that goes beyond his individual vote is a factor in the Majority Leader's calculus. But it is the Majority Leader who does the computing of the possible. And the critical point is that he does it without the overall conscious guidance of Senate Democrats either in caucus or in policy committee. It is my position that this is an unnecessary delegation of responsibility by Democratic Senators. In the vast majority of democratic legislative bodies throughout this country and the world, no such delegation is found necessary."

What Mr. Proxmire is describing, in euphemistic and gently spoken phrases, is a system of one-man rule which hardly squares with the word "democratic." The job of a majority leader is indeed concerned with reconciling conflicting views so as to arrive at a consensus. But this is a far different matter from the delegation to one man of the power to assign members to committees and to bestow other favors with respect to the taking up of particular bills in which a Senator may be deeply interested.

Many a Senator finds that his re-election may depend on whether he gets through the Senate certain legislation that benefits his state. If the majority leader doesn't look with favor on a Senator who backs the views of that leader on other subjects, the end result might be blocking the bill and ultimate defeat for the Senator who stood up for his convictions.

It was never intended by the founding fathers that the two Senators who represent a sovereign state would be subject to the rule of a single Senator from some other state on whether a particular piece of legislation shall be pushed to passage or left to wither on the vine.

Rebellions against one-man rule in both houses of Congress have made the front pages in past history. The revolt against Speaker Joe Cannon, Republican, in the House of Representatives in 1910 was hailed as an expression of progressive spirit. It led to an overwhelming defeat of the Republican party in that year's election—its first loss of Congress in sixteen years.

The American people have again and again disapproved of one-man rule in political organizations, whether it be outside or inside Congress.

Few Dare to Criticize

Today it is evident that few members of the Senate dare to criticize the leader. They prefer to acquiesce in a code of expediency lest they lose a favor with the man in control. Yet, privately many Senators do concede that some bills are kept buried in committee or delayed till the final days of a session when they can be rushed through or defeated, as the case may be, without much debate.

The drift seems to be toward the totalitarian approach. Bossism is applauded nowadays as merely skillful or masterly "leadership." This session of the Senate, moreover, has seen a trend toward the curtailment of debate and a tendency to allow one man to run the majority party. Any member can, of course, make whatever speech he desires for the record, but his influence within his own party with respect to getting action on particular pieces of legislation depends to no small extent on how he stands with the majority leader.

Election of United States Senators by popular vote—instead of by state legislatures, so as to overcome "boss rule" in those legislatures—was proclaimed as in line with the democratic process when the Seventeenth Amendment was adopted in 1913. Yet few people who favored this amendment ever thought that one-man rule in the Senate could nullify the wishes of the whole state and block consideration of measures submitted by one state to the other states for approval or disapproval. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A certain George Sokolsky, who writes essays for the press in long-hand which is then translated into type-script by a certain Miss Patt, has recently been rattling his tambourine for the contingency fund of the Silurian society, which is used to stake reporters up against it for various reasons. I regarded this fellow as a newspaperman of the true faith until Miss Patt confided that he wrote with a pencil whereupon I phoned and said, "You are no newspaperman; you are just a writer, like those guys who sit at little tables around bazaars in whatever they call Persia now and write post-cards home for illiterate camel drivers having themselves a time."

"Yes," said Mr. Sok. "Just a medieval scribe."

But he is a good scribe and his adventures include a hitch in St. Petersburg where he hung around until Ambassador Duff Francis lit out for home via Siberia. Sok went along as far as China but finally returned to New York where he learned my trade by hearsay. He never covered a fire, but he somehow has a great feeling for us who did and we respect him almost to reverence. He has more courage than any other I can think of real quick. Sok recently stood up under major surgery. In a week he was back raising hell and he missed only three days' work.

In his appeal for the contingency fund, Sok wrote: "We serve the public in our younger years and then are forgotten. That is the nature of our trade."

So the other night in the Arizona desert when Marshall and Suzie Hunt have to be the editor of the Olympian, Wash., but long hence of the New York Daily News, I reminded him of Sok's comment and got this: "In 1919, just back from the war, Marshall barged into the temporary office of the New York Daily News, then housed as tenant in the evening mail plant in a building on a street which both are gone now, and asked a rough-hewn stranger who was boss. 'I am,' the man said. 'What about a job?' Marshall said. 'You are hired, get to work,' said Joseph McMill Patterson, just out of a soldier suit himself."

Well, Jom, as the hands called him, took a great liking to Marshall and soon confided that although at the moment he couldn't afford the city press service, he had no bigotry against the pillage of its bulletins as news-tips which were running into the mail on a stock-ticker which, after the hours of the evening papers, was boxed up in a metal hood secured with a 10-pound padlock. Marshall knew a burglar who for $5 instructed him how to pick the padlock so they were in business until one enchanted evening when a real hot one came over

Humane Slaughter Bills

Editor, The Freeman:

While several Humane Slaughter bills have been introduced in the New York Legislature, only two (which are virtually identical) merit support: Senate Bill 3539 and Assembly Bill 4075. These would make humane slaughter methods mandatory in all slaughter houses instead of limiting this reform to those selling to state agencies which would discriminate against certain packers and deprive 80 per cent of the food animals of this sorely needed protection.

If we can deluge our legislators with letters now, we stand an excellent chance of getting adequate legislation rather than weak substitutes—even two post cards could do the trick, one to Senator Ogden E. Bush, Senate Chamber, Albany; the other to Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Assembly Chamber, Albany.

Let us impress them both with our interest in these good bills. Let us do it at once and in great numbers so that we may put an end to the shameful and archaic methods which prevail in our slaughter houses even in this enlightened age.

Sincerely,
CLARE G. KEARNEY.

NEW YORK (AP) — The battle over basic economics is out in the open today in Congress.

The fight is over this: Should we have a government planned increase in economic growth? Or should we first scotch the threat of over-inflation and let economic growth come naturally.

The Senate - House Economic Committee has split wide open over the issue.

The United States has a long record of economic growth, interrupted now and then by recessions, some with little impact on the over-all economy and its subsequent growth.

It has had also its scattered spurts of inflation. Since World War II the intervals in between have been short. The whittling away at the purchasing power of the dollar has been large.

The two sides to the dispute: 1. At the present time stubborn unemployment totals show that economic growth is not fast enough to keep up with the times. 2. Economic growth is the way of the land and is best when it comes naturally; forced growth programs have too many risks, chief among them being inflation; if the price of goods and services goes up as a result of the scheme, it blacks out the benefits of the so-called growth.

The case for greater economic growth is strong. We do have a lot of unemployment. If the government did some quick pump priming by more spending and ran up a Treasury deficit that could further increase the supply of money, it might easily mean more jobs, more consumer spending for more factory products.

The value of a normal economic growth is put this way by Guaranty Trust Co. of New York economists: "It takes place" as a result of the desire of individuals to better the material condition of themselves and their families. In this endeavor, people save, invest, devise new and better tools, invent new products and new processes, and employ other people in order to operate more efficiently and on a larger scale."

Bank economists, however, warn of the dangers of setting an arbitrary rate of economic growth.

In a free economy like ours, one of the freedoms is to make mistakes. The bankers say "only in a society where mistakes are never made can output continuously match full capacity."

Campanella Boy Is Paroled to Mother, Priest

NEW YORK (AP)—David Campanella, 15-year-old son of former baseball star Roy Campanella, was formally adjudged today a juvenile delinquent for breaking into a drug store. He was paroled in the custody of his mother and a Catholic priest.

Children's Court Justice Sylvia Liese told reporters after the closed-door hearing that she had ordered the youth to stay off the streets at night unless accompanied by an adult.

She said she also directed him to keep up with his school studies and try to lead a normal life, pending completion of a full psychological and psychiatric examination.

Justice Liese said David admitted breaking into a Queens drug store on a dare shortly after midnight Feb. 15, but that he denied taking anything.

Police previously said the Negro boy admitted breaking into the store with a white youth and taking cigarettes, toothpaste and $9 in cash. The doorman said he lost over $100 in cash, merchandise and checks.

Justice Liese said that she will decide what punishment to give young Campanella on April 10, after receiving reports from social agency experts and psychiatrists.

Three Are Hurt

Route 32 when the latter's car was struck in the right side by the front end of the Scarselli vehicle.

Troopers said Scarselli failed to stop for a stop sign and was issued a summons on a charge of reckless driving.

The report said McLaughlin suffered a laceration of the left knee, abrasions of the left hand and laceration over the left eye while Marie Scarselli suffered abrasions of forehead and fracture of the right elbow. Scarselli also was taken to the hospital with possible fractures of both legs and elbows, troopers said, but X-rays were negative.

Taken to Hospital

A report at 7:30 p. m. said Assion suffered a broken nose, laceration of the right eyelid, and laceration at the base of the skull when his car skidded on Route 32, town of Rosendale, and struck a pole. He was removed to Kingston Hospital.

Troopers said Assion was driving south on Route 32, Rosendale Heights, when his car skidded on wet pavement, went off the west shoulder of the road, traveled approximately 300 feet, crossed the highway, went off the east shoulder down an embankment where it struck a pole.

The report said the pole fell on the front porch of a residence owned by Forman Schermerhorn, of Box 259, RD 4, Kingston, and there was slight damage to the roof.

WCSA Prepares Hall For Fashion Show

The preparation of decorations for the "Out of This World" fashion show to be held in Saugerties Methodist Church Chapel Saturday has been underway this week, a committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the church announced today.

The committee includes Mrs. Thelma Long, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Gertrude Waldele and Mrs. Jeanne Sawatz.

The announcement said the atmosphere of the chapel will be so transferred that everyone attending will be "magically launched into outer space and set into orbit in a whirl of fantasies."

Mrs. Robert Thompson, model chairman, said that many Saugerties merchants are cooperating in the project by lending garments, hats and accessories for the show.

Mrs. Grace Werner will be narrator of the show.

PRINCIPALS AT GOC TESTIMONIAL — More than 125 "Skywatchers" of Kingston Post, Ground Observer Corps, deactivated Jan. 31, were honored at a testimonial held Tuesday evening at Kingston Lodge 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, where they were guests of the Elks Auxiliary. (l-r) Charles Arnold, assistant director, Kingston-Ulster Civil Defense Council; William J. McGrath, chief, Aircraft Warning Service, New York State Civil Defense Commission, who was the principal speaker; Mrs. Dewey Logan, post supervisor; Mrs. William Blume, chief observer; Maj. H. Lefkowitz Office Activities Topic At Lions Meeting

The duties and functions of the office of the New York State Attorney General, Louis K. Lefkowitz, were outlined before the Kingston Lions Club at its Tuesday luncheon meeting by Paul Brown of the litigation and claims bureau of that office.

Brown said there are 17 general bureaus under the jurisdiction of the attorney general. He mentioned several, including the Consumer Frauds Bureau and the Civil Rights Bureau.

The attorney general is the chief legal officer of the state, employing about 360 lawyers. It is second in size only to the United States Attorney General's office.

He said that New York State can only be sued in the Court of Claims. There are three types of claims against the state—negligence, contract matters and appropriations cases.

In the matter of land appropriations, maps are filed for land needed in construction. The property is evaluated by a state appraiser. The citizen may accept or reject the appraisal figure. If he refuses, he must obtain counsel and enter a claim against the state for a fair price.

Brown is a resident of Ballston Spa and a member of the Lions Club.

Richard Kalish and Joseph Fassbender were awarded pins for ten years of perfect attendance at meetings of the Lions Club.

The report said the board of directors authorized the following appropriations at a meeting Monday evening:

Biddie Basketball League, $40; March of Dimes, $50; Heart Fund, $100; Red Cross, $100; Little League, $300; Gateways Industries Inc., $300; and Cancer Crusade, $300.

Joseph Saccoman, program chairman introduced Brown.

Ayo Returned

hended in Louisiana on an attempted robbery charge, and sentenced to two and a half years in the state penitentiary there.

Ayo completed serving that sentence on March 7 and was taken into custody by the Baton Rouge sheriff's department on a bench warrant signed by Ulster County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

It was reported that the other two counts stemmed from the same indictment which charged Ayo with first degree attempted robbery.

Brown said Szymanski is now serving time in Elmira Reformatory on another charge.

All See Point

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Rep. Helen Wells of Torrance County rose in the New Mexico House to speak for a bill that all community property should go to a surviving widow in case of a man dying without leaving a will.

She said: "This is a good bill. I don't feel like arguing about it. So if you gentlemen will just agree with me, there will be no argument."

There was no argument. The bill passed unanimously.

GOP Plans

raise the state cigarette tax from three to five cents a package and impose a 15 per cent tax on the wholesale price of cigars and other tobacco products.

As part of the governor's fiscal program, the state gasoline tax was increased March 1 from four to six cents a gallon.

First Over $2 Billion

The budget is the first in New York's history to top two billion dollars, and it calls for the greatest round of tax increases New Yorkers have ever seen.

Originally Rockefeller asked for 277 million in new or increased revenues, including a 150-million boost in income taxes, to support a $2,041,000,000 budget.

After a general clamor against the income tax plan arose, however, GOP legislative leaders chopped 40 million from the budget and used most of it to cut back the tax increase.

Under their plan, married couples will be granted a $25 credit on their annual tax and single taxpayers a $10 credit. Rockefeller had proposed a $10 credit for married and single persons alike.

No Claim of Victory

Although the governor's income tax plan was trimmed sharply, he won substantially what he requested otherwise. Still, he did not claim victory in the battle of the budget.

He added that he was "very pleased" at the outcome and said "it put the state back on a sound fiscal basis."

Rockefeller originally said he would not compromise on the tax program. But he consented to the leaders' reduction.

The Senate endorsed the leaders' plan last Tuesday, but 28 of the 92 GOP assemblymen spurned it as insufficient. The same day, Rockefeller and Heck personally persuaded several to yield.

Russo's Vote Decisive

The decisive vote—the 76th vote—was cast in Tuesday's majority conference by Assemblyman Lucio F. Russo of Staten Island, who had been among the most militant rebels.

Russo said he switched on the basis of assurances that the $10 and $25 credits would be continued automatically from year to year, instead of having to be renewed annually as Rockefeller had proposed.

Heck would not discuss how the revolt collapsed. But he told reporters forcefully:

"Let's get this straight once and for all. There was no talk of political reprisals. That is absolutely foreign to the way I conduct affairs as speaker."

Van Kleeck Is Held

Bruce Van Kleeck, 18, of Route 2, Box 157 Kingston, was arrested early Tuesday afternoon by Kingston state police on a charge of first degree grand larceny.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Town of Ulster, Van Kleeck waived examination and was committed to the Ulster County jail to await grand jury action.

Van Kleeck was charged with stealing a car from in front of a Woodstock tavern on Feb. 15, troopers said.

125 Who Served In GOC Honored At Dinner Here

Need for continued preparedness was stressed Tuesday evening at a testimonial here honoring more than 125 "Skywatchers" of the deactivated Kingston Post, Ground Observer Corps.

William J. McGrath, chief, Aircraft Warning Service, New York State Civil Defense Commission, was the principal speaker at a meeting held at the Elks Club, Fair Street, where the GOC volunteer workers were guests of the Elks Auxiliary.

McGrath spoke of the potential impact of America's developed missile program, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's May 27 deadline ultimatum on the Berlin crisis, and urged continued preparedness in the nation's defense program.

He praised Mrs. Dewey Logan, post supervisor, for her leadership and indefatigable efforts in behalf of the local post, which was deactivated Jan. 31.

Other speakers included Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who expressed the city's appreciation for the efforts of the volunteer workers; Maj. H. Edgar Timmerman, chief, Defense Council, and Charles L. Arnold, assistant director.

Mrs. Logan stressed the importance of a continued organization to assist other defense work and a number of Skywatchers volunteered their services. A meeting will be called in the near future and a program, under the direction of Mrs. Logan, will be outlined.

Each volunteer member of the GOC received an honorary life membership U. S. Air Force Team Defense Team identification card and a certificate from the Air Force for voluntary and faithful service in the GOC.

Members who were unable to attend the testimonial are urged to contact Mrs. Logan so that they may receive their awards. Those who served from 1950 to 1959 are eligible and deadline for presentation of the awards is April 1.

An impressive candlelight service was held in which decorated members of the Ground Observer Corps were memorialized. They included:

Mrs. Nellie Osterhout, Mrs. Margaret Van Steenburgh, Miss Alberta Davis, William Baker, Robert Deegan, Kenneth Evory, Jerry Fisher, George Fowler, Edwin Kolb, Herbert Powell and Harry Whitney, all of this city, and Maj. John Hilton, of Saugerties, chief assistant director of Civil Defense.

White carnations were placed in a vase in memory of each deceased member.

Mrs. Logan expressed her appreciation to the Elks Lodge and Ladies Auxiliary, Schwenk's Bakery, Salzman's Bakery, Scholl's Market, Safford & Seuders, Schneider's Jewelers, and Addison Jones for their contributions to last night's testimonial.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Robert S. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, and the benediction by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel.

Police Claim

somebody says: "I sure could use some more money."

Suddenly Turn Serious

The general reaction is: "Who couldn't?" and then one of the four suggests that maybe they should rob a bank. Like countless other beer drinkers who have made or listened to the same suggestion, they all laugh.

And why the kidding conversation of the insurance salesman, the plumber, the blueprint man, and the tavern keeper suddenly turned serious, no one can say.

"We're not in debt except for the mortgage," says Rylsky's wife, as mystified as any one. "In our 18 years of marriage I never know him to violate the law."

"Sure we needed money," said McElroy's wife, "but not this bad."

Woefully Uninformed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mayor Jean Louis Vigiar of Paris was visiting Phoenix. Someone asked Mayor Jack Williams of Phoenix what he and the visiting mayor would talk about. "Maybe, Brigitte Bardot," someone ventured. "Bridge at Bordeaux?" Mayor Williams asked. "Is that a bridge on the River Seine?"

Kassem-Nasser Relations Worsen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Relations between Iraq and President Nasser's United Arab Republic sank to a new low today as a result of the revolt against the left-leaning Iraqi government.

The Baghdad government claimed it had smashed the revolt against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem and reports spread that some of the rebel army officers were trying to escape across the Syrian border. Other reports said fighting was still going on, apparently by desperate holdouts trying to flee the country.

Makes Charge on Planes

The U.A.R.'s semi-official Middle East News Agency charged that Iraqi planes had shot up a Syrian border village. The agency also reported that Iraqi planes had strafed several Iraqi villages in the Mosul area near the border.

Kassem meanwhile expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats assigned to the Baghdad embassy, declaring they were a menace to public safety. The Baghdad correspondent of the Middle East News Agency also was ordered out.

Nine of the ousted diplomats arrived in Cairo and reported that the Baghdad government apparently was still digging in for a fight.

First reports of the revolt made clear that the rebellious army officers wanted to swing the Iraqi government toward Nasser and opposed the growing influence of the Iraqi communists on Kassem.

Accuses Foreign Power

Military governor Ahmed Saleh el Abdi in a broadcast over Baghdad radio blamed a "foreign power" for sparking the rebellion. It was plain he referred to the U.A.R. Street demonstrations staged in Baghdad to support Kassem turned into anti-Egyptian rallies.

Nasser's news agency accused Iraq of taking "provocative measures against the U.A.R." As yet, however, there was no retaliatory expulsion of Iraqi diplomats from Cairo.

Details of the army revolt were still sketchy.

Diplomatic informants said the rebels had pulled out of the northern oil center of Mosul where Col. Abdel Wahhab Shawaf and a group of pro-Nasser followers launched the rebellion Sunday.

A terse report from Baghdad radio indicated the government had regained control of Mosul sometime Tuesday. It said the military governor of Iraq had clamped a curfew on the northern city.

Cat Not Rabid

That Bit Navy,

Test Reveals

A tomcat believed to be the one which bit Alan Navy, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Navy, 182 Washington Avenue, Feb. 28, appears not to have been a victim of rabies, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, county health commissioner, said today.

The cat, picked up in the neighborhood March 2, has been under observation since then. It usually takes 10 days of observation to determine if an animal is infected. The cat will be observed for a few more days, however.

The boy was bitten on the left hand, after he had picked up the cat, which he thought was formerly owned by the Navy family. Although there was no means of determining 100 per cent identification, the cat was believed to have been the one which bit the boy, and was held for the rabies test.

Rondout Valley

Lions Club to

Meet Thursday

Patrick Mataraza, district governor of Lions International, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Rondout Valley Lions Club Thursday 6:45 p. m. at the SRS Home, Cottekill.

Mataraza has been a member of the Marlboro-Milton Club since 1948 holding such positions as president, tail twister, member of the board of directors and deputy district governor. He has also served as president of the Marlboro Board of Education, member of the board of fire commissioners, and secretary of the Milton Volunteer Fire Company.

Under the direction of Welfare Chairman Buddy Emberson the Golden Gloves finals will be held the evenings of March 20 and 21 in Kingston Municipal Auditorium. Young boxers from 26 upstate counties as far west as Buffalo and north to the Canadian border will take part. The ushers will be under the direction of George Kornstone and the kitchen under the direction of Sol Rind and floor sales of refreshments under the direction of Joseph Brubaker.

Since the last meeting posters have been placed in many locations throughout the county. Welfare Committee Chairman Emberson has spoken at a meeting of the Kingston Club, Blanchard and R. P. Huben and Emberson visited the New Paltz Club. William Conway is advertising chairman.

Keeping Record Clean

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Mayor Harold Frankel received a call from an acquaintance offering congratulations on Huntington's selection as an All-American city in a national contest. But as the mayor was saying thanks for the kind thoughts, the caller added: "Now get your All-American garbage truck over to my house and pick up the garbage."

March 25 Dinner

Divisional S-A

Head to Address

1st Baptist Men

Guest speaker for the Wednesday, March 25, dinner meeting of the Men's Club of First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway, will be Brigadier Paul S. Kaiser, divisional commander of the Eastern New York Division of the Salvation Army.

This was announced today by Albert O. Sonnenberg, member of the program committee, who said that the dinner would start at 6:30 p. m. Although the dinner is limited to definite reservations, the public is invited to hear Brigadier Kaiser when he begins his message at 7:30 o'clock.

Will Talk on World Trip

Brigadier Kaiser will bring a message dealing with his recent trip around the world with particular emphasis on his visit to the Holy Land.

Billy Smallwood, president of the Baptist Men's Club, added that the guest speaker also will show numerous slides of scenes taken during his voyage abroad.

Many Biblical references will be viewed as they appear today, Smallwood pointed out.

The S-A divisional commander has had wide experience with varied positions of responsibility in young people's work. He is a graduate of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Business College and New York University. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, a professional educational fraternity and Alpha Kappa Delta, a research society in sociology.

After receiving his commission in the School for Officers' Training in New York, he commanded posts in Shenandoah and Lewisville, Pa., and in Orange and Plainfield, N. J. He served as youth secretary in New York for seven years and as second in command of the Northeastern Ohio Division with headquarters in Cleveland.

24 Centers Under Him

Before assuming his New York post, Brigadier Kaiser was secretary of the Young People's and Education Department for the 11 northeastern states, supervising religious, educational and social group work programs in 345 centers.

Under his present direction with headquarters in Albany are 24 Corps Centers and 104 service units in an area covering 27 counties.

His wife, the former Louise Duerr, daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. Franz Duerr, who formerly were second in command of the Salvation Army in Switzerland, is the director of the women's services in northeastern New York.

The local Salvation Army post is one of the Red Feather organizations in the Kingston Area Community Chest and is headed by Major Foster Meitroff.

Officer's Case Is

Adjourned to Tuesday

An assault case involving Cpl. Edward Shannon, a member of the state police Bureau of Criminal Investigation assigned to Ellenville, yesterday was adjourned to Tuesday, March 17.

Cpl. Shannon is charged with third degree assault for allegedly striking a Greene County man on Feb. 18.

The trooper appeared before Justice of the Peace George Carl of Catskill yesterday, and adjournment of the case until next Tuesday was granted on request of Cpl. Shannon's attorney, Howard C. St. John, former Ulster County district attorney. Shannon is free in his own recognition.

Cpl. Shannon was arrested on complaint of Harold Morrison, 35, of Cairo, who said the trooper and another man in a black car stopped his car on Route 32 in Ulster County.

The pair, Morrison said, were wearing civilian clothes and inquired of the whereabouts of his brother, Robert, 21, of Cairo, a passenger in a vehicle allegedly involved in a hit-run accident the previous day.

Morrison claims that when he couldn't provide the men with the information, Cpl. Shannon identified himself as a police officer, then struck him on the mouth.

AMERICAN MENU

Ocean Perch Served on Herbs
Has Real Roman Elegance

"WE WHO are about to feast salute you" might well be the proper greeting for Ocean Perch of the Twelve Caesars.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Sea food, served in the manner of imperial Rome, has helped bring fame to one of New York's most sumptuous restaurants—The Forum of the Twelve Caesars.

Alan Lewis, the distinguished young manager, told us that many of the celebrities who dine there often prefer sea food and fish dishes to the lordly meats.

Here are a few from "A Harvest From the Seas and Rivers" section of the forum menu:

poached turbot Britannicus, with sauce of truffled white wine;

Asian shrimp, charcoal broiled in their shells, with oriental relish;

sea food curry in the manner of the Eastern Empire; sea bass poached in herbs, with sauce of hot vinaigrette; planked white fish broiled with mussels with Olympian butter.

Alan Lewis, an epicure himself, urged us to order Ocean Perch Aflame on rosemary herb with lemon ginger sauce. It was served dramatically, the golden sautéed perch fillets brought to table on a grid-covered brazier holding burning charcoal and rosemary leaves. The herbs give both scent and flavor to the perch fillets. Just before serving, the waiter poured a little orange extract over the fillets and ignited it.

We borrowed the recipe and translated it into family terms.

If any of the Twelve Caesars ever visit your home, you'll know what to serve them.

Ocean Perch Aflame—Forum of the Twelve Caesars

(4 to 6 servings)

Three pounds ocean perch fillets, fresh or frozen (if frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature); flour, 2 eggs, 1 small onion, 8 shallots, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine,

2 3 cup white wine, juice of 3 lemons, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger, small bunch of chives, chopped; 1/2 pound butter or margarine.

Dip each fillet in flour, then in slightly beaten eggs, then in a second coating of flour. Let stand on waxed paper for about 15 minutes to set the coating.

Meanwhile, make the sauce:

Chop onion and shallots fine and cook in 6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine until tender but still slightly crisp. Add white wine, lemon juice, ginger and continue cooking for about 5 minutes. Now scatter chopped chives on top and keep warm until fish is fried. Melt 1/2 pound butter or margarine in a large skillet. Add fish fillets and fry over a low heat until golden on both sides. Serve sauce over the top of the fish.

Engaged to Wed Robert Hornbeck

MAUREEN FISHER

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher of 80 Prospect Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Maureen, to Robert Hornbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hornbeck of 50 Elizabeth Street, this city.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Hadassah to Hear Report Given on Iron Curtain Life

Jewish life behind the Iron Curtain will be the subject of a panel discussion to be presented for Hadassah members Monday, March 16.

The program will highlight a meeting of the Kingston Chapter, set for 8:30 p. m. at Temple Emanuel, Abell Street. Participating will be Mrs. Melvin Mones, Mrs. Alex Parnett, Mrs. Melvin Navy and Mrs. Robert S. Yallum.

Mrs. Mones and Mrs. Parnett will discuss Jewish life in the USSR, dealing with social, religious and cultural aspects of the Jews' situation, past and present. Mrs. Yallum will outline recent development in Soviet policy dealing with migration from Russia and Rumania to Israel, as well as the reaction of the Arab League. Mrs. Navy, who will serve as moderator for the discussion, will describe the life that awaits these immigrants when they arrive in Israel.

Also on the program will be a talk by Mrs. Lotar Saluc, Hadassah's education chairman, on the significance of Purim, the Feast of Lots, which will be celebrated March 24. Mrs. Navy is chairman of the program.

Included in the business session will be the presentation of a slate of officers for the coming year. Reports will be given by chairmen of spring projects, including Mrs. Herbert Gertner, Mrs. Louis Kornfeld, Mrs. Sidney Halpern and Mrs. Sidney Treinkman. The projects benefit Hadassah Medical Organization, with Mrs. Jay Melton as general chairman.

Purim Holiday Will Be Celebrated by Community Center

The Talmud Torah of Kingston will celebrate the holiday of Purim with a festival set for 10 a. m. Sunday, March 22, at the Jewish Community Center.

Games are planned, with prizes to be awarded; students who come in Purim costumes will receive special awards.

Making arrangements for the event are Mrs. Harry Fertel, Mrs. George Mueller, Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein of Congregation Ahavath Israel and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim.

The holiday of Purim, which begins on the evening of March 23, celebrates the deliverance of the Jews in the Persian empire from extermination by the plot of Haman, prime minister to the king. Through the intervention of Esther, the queen, the plan was exposed and the Jews saved. The Megillah, or Book of Esther, is read on Purim eve and morning.

Beauty in the Sun

Before long, we will be in the season of longer, brighter days—and of more time spent outdoors. It will be the season, in the beauty department, when we must pay special attention to skin care.

For spring breezes and summer sun have a drying effect. It's not hard to keep skin soft and smooth, with a bit of planning and care. And it pays dividends in extra loveliness when we appear in bathing suits, play clothes or sheer formals.

Those of us who spend lots of time outdoors in sunny weather usually find that dryness is becoming a major skin problem. The sun's rays steal away moisture and natural oils. You may well want to switch to a slightly heavier complexion cream in warm weather. And it's wise to use a toilet bar which is less drying than soap.

Sunglasses are a complexion aid, too. Although they may not appear so. Bright days, with sun sparkling on sand and water—or just on a strip of concrete highway—can affect even those with 20/20 vision. This has two results: night blindness which is usually temporary, but can be really dangerous (it causes many auto accidents), and an unattractive "squinting" look. When you crinkle your eyes to protect them from the glare, you push tiny crow's feet in—and, with the slightest encouragement (or neglect), they'll stay there. Sunglasses are pretty. They can be an asset to your outfit—so don't omit them.

Sun tan lotion, of course, is a "must." But use it early—before your skin has burned. And use it even away from the beach.

These four simple tools can save you from sun's dangers, make you a smooth and happy sun worshipper. Don't skip any one of them. And don't think that it's too early to think about these things—before you know it, the hot weather will be here.

Hems Are Longer

Pattern designers are working at top speed these days to translate into patterns, the newest looks of the Paris fashions just shown. To sum up the news, they reveal the following:

"Shapes are definite, marked and emphasize waists." The most important fact is that belted waists have returned. They may be circled by a string or cinched with the widest belts you've ever seen. Even if not always belted, the waistline is well defined.

Width at shoulders is a prophetic trend. Not the old type of padded width, but the "look" of width achieved by wide set-away collars, shoulder shirring and pleating, dropped shoulder lines. There are widened sleeves, too—identified by some as "Magen sleeves."

Skirt lengths are slightly longer than in the last Paris collections, but for the average woman this means TURNING UP THE HEMLINE AT THE MOST BECOMING LENGTH. Paris suggests about two inches longer than last season. The silhouette is more varied—belled skirts with rib-snug bodices as well as longer suit jackets, some with an almost "mannish" look.

New Shades Are Out

Lots of grey flannel appears and for summer, embroidered sheer linen and organdy. Ghif-fons are still in the picture—slubbed silks, pastel silks, black and white tweeds, many checks, huge to miniature in size, are of interest.

Paris showed a new "coca-cola" shade . . . also pink, in almost everything from suits and coats to chiffon and silk dresses and much green . . . from palest Spring tints, to greyed tones.

The American-in-Paris was the shirtdress . . . shown here earlier, and given a French accent in the collections. Some of its newest versions are more feminine, with raised waistlines, billowing skirts.

Chanel's now classic suit remains one of the most important of the Paris looks. Shown by other couturiers, too . . . seen frequently with blouse and jacket lining in the same fabric, color or print!

SHOULD TOTAL COSTS BE EQUAL?

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I both come from quite large families. We used to exchange birthday presents with all the members of the family but it became too much and so we all agreed just to give presents to the children in the family. We all more or less spend the same amount for gifts. This is my problem: I am the only one in the family with three children, all the others have two. In this case, don't you think I should give their children more expensive gifts to make up for the extra present they have to buy, or do I spend the same amount. I feel rather guilty about this and think we should make up for it in the way I suggest. My husband thinks I am wrong. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: Much as I dislike the idea that presents should be balanced on an adding machine, I think you would do well to give two somewhat nicer presents in exchange for the three your children receive.

Refusing a Too Hospitable Hostess

Dear Mrs. Post: What can one say, without being rude, to someone who keeps coaxing you to have something to eat or drink? On quite a few occasions

I have been confronted with this problem and have wound up eating something I really didn't want because the hostess just wouldn't take "no thank you" for an answer.

Answer: When a hostess intending to be hospitable insists that one of her guests take a drink or let us say, a second helping of food, and refuses to take "No thank you" for an answer, the guest can add, "I only wish I could, but it's doctor's orders."

Stork Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: In order to settle a dispute, will you please tell me whether it is proper to give a baby shower after the arrival of a baby?

Answer: Yes, certainly! In my opinion, better than before.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-15, entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman.

LWV Workshops Set For March 13, 16

Two workshops are planned by members of the Provisional League of Women Voters of Kingston.

The first session on the study of the state court system will be held Friday, March 13, while members working on the "Know Your Kingston" survey will meet Monday, March 16.

The judicial study will be outlined at a meeting from 1 to 3 p. m. Friday in the home of Mrs. David S. Gerbarg, chairman, Mountain Road, Hurley. Those who wish directions may call Mrs. Gerbarg or her co-chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Meyer, Hurley.

Sections of the local government survey will be outlined and assignments selected by members at Monday's meeting, set for 8:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs, chairman, 266 Washington Avenue. The study will culminate in the publication of a booklet on all phases of Kingston's government.

All those interested in either workshop are urged to attend or contact the chairman for more information. The League of Women Voters is open to all women of voting age; those who wish to join the Kingston group may contact the treasurer, Mrs. Ellsworth L. Johnson, 10 Kiersted Avenue. Further information on the organization may be obtained from Mrs. Reid A. Heassler, membership chairman.

The Kingston group will initiate unit meetings in mid-April; the unit arrangement is designed to divide the organization into smaller groups to facilitate discussion. Members may select either an afternoon or evening unit to attend; at both meetings, identical programs will be presented, encompassing the judicial study, local government survey and voters' service information. Details on meeting times will be announced in the near future.

Inflation

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — When the Wyoming Legislature passed a bill increasing from $15 to $35 the cash payment given prisoners discharged from the state penitentiary, Rep. Oscar Hall had a logical explanation. He attributed the increase to "the high cost of leaving."

SCOUTS SERVE OTHERS — Members of Troop 14, Town of Ulster, make St. Patrick's Day favors for residents of the Ulster County Infirmary. More than 3,000,000 Girl Scouts know how to have fun, but they know how to be of service, too—to their friends, to their communities and to their country. In the picture are (l-r) Linda Dufur, Patricia Murphy, Diane Snyder, Mrs. Raymond Herrick, leader; Lynn Gallo, Joan Peebles and Lynn Berry. (Freeman photo)

AHRC State Meeting Held in New York; Resident Attends

Mrs. Donovan F. Buehring, special education teacher at the Myron J. Michael Junior High School and county AHRC adviser, has been named to the State AHRC Education Committee according to word received from James Maroon of New City, committee chairman. Mr. Maroon, a former Kingstonian, is a member of the history department, New City High School, and an active member of the Rockland County AHRC chapter.

Serving on the committee are: Charles Becker, associate in education, division of the mentally handicapped, State Education Department; Mrs. Bernice Baumgartner, State AHRC Director of Education and coordinator for workshops being currently conducted by the State Education Dept.; John S. Avery, principal, Lacawanna Vocational School, Erie County; Thomas Lotz, supervising principal, Sherbourne public schools; Mrs. Debra Cherey, member Board of Directors, Putnam County AHRC; Mrs. Helen Kaplan, member of the Board of Directors, Nassau County AHRC; and Mrs. Mary D. McCarthy, executive secretary, Onondaga County AHRC.

Organized one year ago on a statewide basis, the committee has been considerably widened in anticipation of an energetic program of action in providing professional advice and assistance in the education of mentally handicapped children within the 28 organized chapters of the state, (now covering 33 counties).

Under Mr. Maroon's chairmanship, members of the committee held an organizational meeting at the State AHRC Headquarters, Chase-Manhattan Bank Building, 200 Fourth Avenue, New York City on Saturday.

Opening the day's session, Joseph T. Weingold, State AHRC executive director welcomed the group and conducted an orientation period outlining the committee's area of service in relation to the state association and individual chapter needs. The group decided that broad areas of concern would be:

Advisory or direct assistance in the establishment of classes for educable and trainable children; development of the special education program; development and refinement of a curriculum for established classes; workshops for teacher training in the field of mental retardation; compulsory psychological evaluations for children failing in early primary grades; psychological and vocational evaluations of older students within the special classes of the public school; research in the area of vocational rehabilitation in cooperation with the State department; and development of sheltered workshops.

P-TA at School 7 Holds Meeting; View Cancer Film

Everett Schoen, Cubmaster of Pack 13, Boy Scouts, addressed a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association at School 7 on Wednesday, March 4.

Schoen reported to the P-TA, sponsors of the Cub Pack, that the Pack now consists of three dens and 21 boys. The goal is to increase to five dens with 30 boys. Den mothers are needed and interested persons are asked to contact Mr. Schoen. Boys eight through 11 are invited to join.

Pack 13 has placed second in both the recent field events and window display.

A film, "The Other City," was shown and Dr. Gerald Gorman conducted a discussion period. The film stressed the seven early warnings of cancer, immediate medical care, and the yearly physical check-up as a means of saving 75,000 lives annually, which are lost through complacency. Dr. Gorman elaborated on the message. He emphasized the need for continued education to make people realize that cancer is a disease, and like other ailments, it has symptoms which can be recognized.

Club Notices

Woodstock Area News

LISA TIANO, Correspondent

Hutty's Traffic Proposals Emphasize One-Way Streets

Apropos of a letter written to Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons covering the broad picture of Town Planning, Warren Hutty proposes several suggestions to improve the flow of traffic through the township.

The Woodstock insurance and real estate broker says Woodstock Village has congested highways. There is no convenient way to turn around and go back home when one drives to the Village Green area.

Among the possible improvements suggested by Hutty are these:

(1) The Village Green itself, could be made into a circle with a traffic lane (with a parking lane on each side of that traffic lane) located between the sidewalk in front of the Reformed Church and the Village Green. This would increase the parking space in the Village Green area. Those approaching the Village Green from Mill Hill Road to drive toward Beausville would drive to the church side of the green. Those driving from Rock City Road toward Beausville or to Kingston would also drive to church side of the green. The safety features are obvious.

One-Way Streets

(2) Old Forge Road could be extended and connected to Mountain View Street and Mountain View Street connected to Library Lane. These three streets are very narrow, hence consideration should be given to making them one-way. It is difficult to exit safely from Library Lane because the bridge and cars parked in front of Aderon's Hardware block one's view of the traffic going west on Tinker Street. Therefore, Library Lane, Mountain View Street and Old Forge Road could be one-way entering Library Lane from Tinker Street and exiting through Old Forge Road. The safety features are again obvious and this plan would provide a convenient way to turn around "legally."

(3) Maple Lane is at present dead end. It is dead end because to extend it directly to meet Tannery Brook Road would mean an impossibly steep grade. It could however be curved to the right and meet Tannery Brook Road in a gentle grade and gentle curve. If such is done it appears some consideration should be given to making Maple Lane and Tannery Brook Road, from the junction of Maple Lane (when extended) to junction of Tannery Brook Road with Tinker Street, one-way with entrance on Mill Hill Road opposite Peper's Garage. At the present time it is difficult when proceeding west on Tinker Street from the village to turn left into Tannery Brook Road—one's signal lights won't stay on left turn because Tinker Street turns right in front of the Guild. Thus there could be another convenient way to turn around.

Problems Ahead

This does lead to the problem of entering Tannery Brook Road to proceed to Ohayo Mountain and Glenford. Denning Street leading off Mill Hill Road between Deanie's and Charlie's could be made one-way to Pine Grove Street. The corners of Mrs. Gregg's property and of Mrs. Waterman's should be purchased to create easier turns.

(4) The "turn around problem" will be intensified when the Post Office is relocated opposite Victor Lasher's. For those driving westerly to the new Post Office on Tinker Street only a very narrow "Orchard Lane East" and "Orchard Lane West" presently provide a "legal" turn around. Orchard Lane East could be made one-way to junction with Tinker Street to junction with Orchard Lane West and Orchard Lane West one-way as far as the junction with the road to John Pike.

(5) To create a "turn around" on the southerly side of Tinker Street appears very difficult because of the terrain—the Cornmeau hill is so close to Tinker Street. Possibly a road could be constructed southerly alongside the new Post Office, crossing the brook and turning easterly to the Cornmeau driveway and exiting through the Cornmeau driveway and exiting through the Cornmeau entrance to Tinker Street.

(6) Neher Street is presently dead end. It could be extended southerly across the Sawkill to the Ohayo Mountain Road.

(7) The original Schoonmaker Lane (the one along the west side of Rupp's) could be extended to join Glasco Turnpike West through the Carlson property.

(8) There is presently a connection between Library Lane and Orchard Lane East. There could be a new connection through the Neil Ives property to Lower Rock City Road.

(9) There could be a future connection between the following: the No. 8 above, Juniper Walk and John Pike's road to No. 7 and later extended further west to the Von Schwannfluegel property and Fred Smith's farm. This would be about midway between and roughly parallel to Tinker Street (Route 212) and Glasco Turnpike West. A look at the map will show that there are 9 or 10 dead end roads that would have through connections if this was planned now.

(10) The area bounded by Rock City Road, Mill Hill Road, Plochman Lane and Glasco Turnpike offer similar problems. Of course many or even most of the present owners of the above concerned properties may not desire any such changes but the fact remains that such or similar planning and accomplishment will increase the value of all adjacent real estate and the community as a whole. Community planning can prevent the useless destruction of property values — posterity does have rights.

Huge Areas Remain

There are, of course, the remaining huge areas of Woodstock Township where the same kinds of planning could be done.

Commercial areas—retail and industrial—must be considered. Rotron is an important asset to the community but not so much so to the immediate adjacent properties as to our community as a whole. Some areas of our township should be "put aside," as it were, for similar usages. The question is where and whose properties?

Gas stations, new ones, are presumably eliminated by town ordinance on Routes 375 and 212 from the Country Club to Beausville. That is not going to eliminate the need for more of them. Harders Corners (junction of Rock City Road and Glasco Turnpike) is a possible location for a gas station.

Pachner Awarded Grant By Ford

William Pachner, Clearwater, Fla. artist, whose paintings are on exhibition at the Mari Galleries in Woodstock, has been selected to participate in a series of traveling retrospective exhibitions under a grant from the Ford Foundation.

The announcement was made recently in Tampa, Fla. by the American Federation of Arts, which has been sponsoring traveling exhibitions since 1909. The painting exhibitions will be made available at low cost to centers where exhibitions of such scope are not ordinarily available.

A native of Czechoslovakia, Pachner came to the United States 20 years ago. He lives with his wife Lorraine, a former Iowan, and their children Ann 14, and Ned, 12, at Clearwater Beach.

Pachner won the American Academy of Arts and Letters $1000 award in New York for distinguished painting in 1949, ten years after arriving in the U. S. and now as he approached his 20th year in this country, he is receiving national, regional and local awards.

Showered With Awards

Within a matter of weeks he has been notified (1) of winning the Ford Foundation grant; (2) that his one-man show at the Krasner Gallery in New York has been extended to a full month and that all but two of his paintings have been sold; (3) that he won second prize in the Florida State Fair; (4) second prize at the Sarasota National Annual, announced March 1 and (5) first prize in the Clearwater Annual. His work has most recently been added to the Joseph H. Hirshorn collection in New York and already is in that of Walter P. Chrysler, Jr.

Pachner first worked as art director of Esquire Magazine. He gave it up in order to "just paint" and then in 1951 went to Florida as art director of the Florida Gulf Coast Art Center at Belleair. He established his own art school in Clearwater in 1957 and teaches there two days a week. He also teaches two classes at Tampa Art Institute.

As a result of the Ford award, Pachner will plan a retrospective exhibition of his work which will show his development over the years. He will have the privilege of selecting any museum director he wishes to help him assemble and catalog the show. He spends every minute that he can find at his easel. "Ultimately," he says, "one wants to devote as much time to creative work as possible."

'The Priesthood' Rev. Sands' Topic At Christ Lutheran

The epistle for Passion Sunday, Hebrews 9:1-15, furnishes the theme—"The Priesthood" for the sermon the Rev. G. Oliver Sands plans to preach at the 11 a. m. service on March 15 in Christ Lutheran Church in Woodstock. "But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come—by his own blood he entered once into the Holy place, having obtained redemption for us."

The Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. is rehearsing songs for their public presentation on Easter Sunday morning. An appropriate film strip will be presented. Parents and friends are invited to attend each and every session. If we stay at ease at home, how long do we expect our children to go without us to the house of God. Parents can best encourage a religious life in their homes when they themselves worship regularly each Sunday morning. Christ rebuked His disciples after He had been in the agony of preparing His soul for its great sacrifice. "What could ye not watch with Me one hour?"

A most cordial welcome is extended to all to study and worship in our friendly, small church.

Choir to Sing

The senior choir plans to sing "Alone" by Ben H. Price—duet and chorus—at the fifth Lenten service at 7:30 p. m., March 12, in Christ Lutheran Church. "Faith, the Measure of Success" is the sermon theme.

Meeting Notices

Mrs. Karl Sieger will be hostess to the Young Women's Guild of Christ Lutheran Church at her home on lower Ohayo Mountain Road on Monday evening, March 16.

The Church Council meets at the church on Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

'Crosses on Calvary' Is the Sermon Theme In Methodist Parish

The sermon topic for the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish for Sunday, March 15, will be titled "Three Crosses on Calvary." Although we tend only to remember that Jesus died on Calvary, we need to recall that he did not die alone. Three men died there that day, and each of them has his own story to tell. There is a great deal to be learned from these three men who came to such a gruesome end. Come to church this Sunday. Join the crowds who are preparing their hearts for Holy Week and Easter.

Meeting Notices

The Commission on Education and Commission on Missions of the Wittenberg Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Newton Shultis this evening at 7:30 p. m.

The Women's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Wittenberg Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg on Monday, March 16, at 8 p. m.

The Commission on Education of the Woodstock Church will meet at the home of Harry Mierck on Tuesday, March 17, at 7:30 p. m.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Woodstock Church will meet on Wednesday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Rifenburg on the Beausville Flats at 8 p. m. Mrs. Egon Schreiner will present the program, showing slides made recently on a trip to Albany.

The Commission on Evangelism of the Wittenberg Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Newton Shultis on Thursday, March 19, at 7:30 p. m. Edgar Baker is chairman of this group.

Baptismal Ceremony At Reformed Church

The sacrament of baptism will be administered to both adults and children at the 11 a. m. service Sunday, March 15, at the Woodstock Reformed Church. Eight new members will be received into the fellowship of the church.

The sermon to be preached by the Rev. Wayne C. Olson is "Christian Duty," based on the 12th chapter of Romans.

Teachers Meeting

A Sunday School Teachers' meeting is scheduled Monday, March 16, at 8 p. m. Plans for the Easter Sunday evening "Sunday school on Review" will be formulated.

Rev. Todd Films

The Rev. Harvey I. Todd of Melville, former pastor of the Woodstock Reformed Church, will show colored slides of his recent trip to Europe, on Wednesday, March 18, at 7:30 p. m. This meeting has been rescheduled from a week earlier, March 11. The public is invited.

Berta Frey Heads State Craftsmen

Miss Berta Frey of Woodstock was elected president of the York State Craftsmen at the annual board meeting in Albany.

This state-wide organization holds its annual crafts fair each August in Ithaca with exhibitions and workshops representing the various crafts.

Miss Frey is in charge of the weaving classes at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

Confirmations Set At St. Gregory's

The Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, has announced that the Rt. Rev. Lewis B. Whittemore, Retired Bishop of Western Michigan, will visit St. Gregory's Saturday, March 14, at 4 p. m. to administer the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation to a group of adults and children.

Following the service, an informal reception for the Bishop and class will be held in the Guild Room. Refreshments will be served.

Since other churches at this hour are unlikely, Father Swezy extends a cordial invitation to any villagers who would like to attend and witness this very beautiful service.

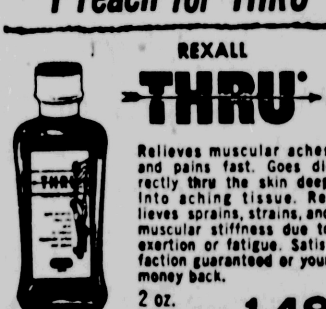

Senior Citizens Club Has Varied Program

Mrs. Louise Brokenshaw will give a talk on pottery at the monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club.

Man Is Acquitted In Child's Death; Wife Still Held

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Victor Corbo, accused with his wife of first degree murder in the death of a three-year-old state ward, is a free man. His case has been thrown out of court.

Passaic County Judge Salvatore D. Viviano ordered acquittal Tuesday for the 40-year-old Corbo, because he said there was no evidence Corbo had participated in the beating which allegedly led to the child's death.

The victim was Ellen Graham, found dead in her crib last July 11, her body covered with bruises. The state says Corbo's wife, Rita, 29, struck the child with a 14-inch paddle a few days before, thus causing death.

Rita Corbo remains on trial. She broke down and wept when she heard the verdict in favor of her husband. She now faces the murder charge alone.

Viviano in his ruling rejected the state's contention that the Corbos had a common intent "to do grievous bodily injury" to Ellen. He also rejected the prosecution's assertion that Corbo was guilty of manslaughter and guilty of "gross and culpable negligence in permitting his wife to beat the child."

"I cannot in good conscience allow the jury to decide the guilt or innocence of Victor Corbo," Viviano said.

There is nothing in the record, Viviano continued, to indicate Corbo had been a participant in the one allegedly fatal blow and added that the issue of other beatings is not relevant.

"We are not trying Victor Corbo for cruelty to children. We are trying him for murder."

Jane Swisshelm, in 1850, was the first American newspaperwoman to become a Washington, D. C., correspondent. Horace Greeley paid her $5 a column to write for The New York Tribune.

Navy Study Is For Women Too, Three Studying

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Things are different now in the naval architecture classes at University of Michigan.

The men no longer tell salty stories, and they outdo themselves in being polite.

Prof. Harry Benford says, "I used to begin my class sessions by saying 'Men, today you will — Now I begin by saying, 'Ladies and gentlemen.'"

Pretty red-haired Judy Robinson of Monroe, Mich., was the first coed to break in the exclusive male circle. Now a senior, she broke down barriers in the Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering Dept., for Susan Ott of Dearborn, Mich., and Darrin Piny of Libertyville, Ill., who are sophomores.

"I was scared to death at first, because the fellows pretended to be rather unhappy about my being here," says Judy. "But I guess I've been accepted by now for they elected me, appropriately enough, purser of the Quarterdeck Society."

As a freshman, Judy joined a sailing club and became interested in naval architecture. Susan figured the only way she'd ever get a sailboat would be to build one. Darrin liked math and physics and figured it would be appealing to be a boat designer.

Man Jailed Here

525 Lexington Avenue Corp., operator of the Shelton Towers.

Woman Indicted Too

Authorities have charged that forged stock certificates of the First National Bank of Yonkers were used as collateral by Mrs. Norma Bucher, Brenner's secretary, to obtain loans. She also is under indictment.

Harris told the judge that Singer procured the forgers and the printing plant where the certificates were printed.

Brenner allegedly used the loan money to refurbish the Shelton Towers for a quick sale at a big profit.

Held Out, He Says

Harris said that Mrs. Bucher and Singer had "apparently been short-changing Brenner by withholding some of the money obtained in loans."

Singer, according to the assistant district attorney, sent a "substantial part" of the $625,000 to Switzerland, where it was deposited in a bank.

Files of the Kingston Daily Freeman show that Singer was arrested on a swindling charge in 1936, indicted May 28, 1936, tried in the spring of 1937 and sentenced to 2½ to 5 years in Clinton Prison, Dannemora.

Got Over $50,000

He was charged with swindling a certain "Kingsburg family of Post Street" out of a considerable sum of money (over $50,000) "through a securities transaction."

The Kingston directory for the year 1937 lists the following persons residing at 44 Post Street: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kingsburg, Rae Kingsburg and Jacob Kingsburg.

First Sentence Erroneous

On May 10, 1937, Singer was sentenced on the charge by Judge Traver. On April 4, 1938, he was resentenced by Judge Traver to 2½ years in Clinton Prison, "the previous sentence being erroneous," according to records in the office of the Ulster County district attorney.

Changing . . .

to provide the necessary relief to the city, as has been done under similar circumstances throughout the state."

Change Proposed

After the bill was introduced in late January, a legal technicality was noted. This was discussed by Assemblyman Wilson, Mayor Radel, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly and County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, and a proposed revised change in the boundary resulted.

An amended bill, the assemblyman said, was approved by Attorney Saul C. Corwin, of the state public works department, March 3. The special council meeting was proposed, he said, because title was "an important factor in getting legislative approval."

A measure was introduced in the State Senate by Senator E. Ogden Bush.

The boundary line change, which eliminates the necessity of building two bridges when the bypass is constructed, will cost the city a loss of 46.8 acres, but it is largely agricultural and pasture land.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by missile-electronic-rocket shares and other selected issues gave the stock market an upside edge early this afternoon despite many losses.

Gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

U.S. Plywood settled for a fractional gain.

Thiokol added another couple of points. Vick Chemical rose a point or so.

Gains of around a point or better were also made by Siegler, Solar Aircraft, Evans Products, Philco and Raytheon.

Jersey Standard dropped about a point. Fractional losses were taken by Texas Co., Royal Dutch, Richfield and Anderson Prichard.

Du Pont fell about 2 and Union Carbide a point.

Bristol-Myers was up more than 3. Gains of close to a point by Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio highlighted rails.

American Motors rose around a point while Chrysler and General Motors gained fractions. General Tire was fractionally higher.

U.S. government bonds were higher.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON

THE SNAKE OIL DOCTORS

At long last, the President proposes to stop the wasters in Congress from taking more of your money from you.

Or, by getting the country deeper in debt, and printing greenbacks, the wasters will reduce the value of your life insurance, pensions, Government bonds, etc.

The Treasury is in trouble. The "Government bond market has been staggering around in a state of near collapse," as the Editor of "THE NEW YORK TIMES" says.

If Congressional spendthrifts increase spending and debt by billions more, what will that do to your savings?

If business is forced to pay still higher taxes, will that put the unemployed back to work?

Take life insurance alone. 115,000,000 Americans are insured. Whom will they believe—as between a balanced budget, or more spending and debt?

The Economic Policy Committee of the life insurance industry says: "If this country is to take seriously the threat of inflation with its devastating effect upon the welfare of its citizens, the President's action should enlist universal support."

Admiral Radford, former Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff, says: "The soundness of the dollar . . . be more important than the Atlas, Polaris and Titan rolled into one."

On the other hand, the Democratic Advisory Council says: "The new budget shows, above all, that in the G.O.P. Administration are . . . only men who put pocketbook before people."

Choose your doctor. We either back the President on sound money, or we don't.

Attorney N. LeVan Haver appeared for Morgan D. Ryan and Austin Boyd Jr., and James J. Abernethy appeared as counsel for Ernest A. Stuebing. Reading of the indictments were waived by both attorneys but Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins made a brief summary of the charges in the indictments.

Copies of the indictments were served on counsel for the defendants.

Asks $5,000 on Boyd

Ryan and Stuebing were admitted to $1,000 bail but Special Prosecutor Tompkins sought $5,000 bail in the Boyd case. Tompkins pointed out that Boyd was an official of Lansell Company, he was a resident of New Jersey, the charge against him contained eleven counts and he stated that in a prior matter it had been necessary to such persons elected or appointed to perform the functions of such public and executive officers, within the County of Ulster, as aforesaid, in charge of purchasing road oils, for the purpose of influencing such persons to purchase road oil from the said Ulster Bituminous Company."

24 Acts Charged

As a result of this agreement, the indictment charges, 24 "overt acts" as follows:

1. On or about April 1951 defendant Stuebing met with Lester D. Stagg and Robert L. Hamm at the home of Stagg in Hurley.

2. On or about May 21, 1951, the three met at 41 Pearl Street in Kingston for an organizational meeting of Ulster Bituminous Company whereat the stock of that company was issued to stockholders of record with Lester D. Stagg receiving 49 shares, Ruth V. Stagg 1 share and Robert L. Hamm 50 shares. Charles H. Gaffney was attorney for the corporation.

3. The same date defendant, Stuebing, received 50 shares of stock in the form of two certificates, representing 25 shares each from Lester D. Stagg and Robert L. Hamm.

4. About November 29, 1951, Stuebing "entered into a written agreement with one Robert B. O'Reilly, whereby defendant Stuebing and the said Robert B. O'Reilly agreed that 25 of the 50 shares of the Ulster Bituminous Company stock, belonging to defendant Stuebing, would be transferred to the name of said Robert B. O'Reilly as nominee, but ownership of the said stock to be retained by defendant Stuebing."

5. On or about July 1, 1953, defendant Morgan D. Ryan commenced his employment with Ulster Bituminous.

6. On or about August 27, 1953, Ryan became treasurer of Ulster Bituminous.

7. On or about January 6, 1954, Ryan became secretary of the company.

Vouchers "Overt acts" all relate to expense vouchers which Ryan made out to the Ulster Bituminous Company in various amounts "which was computed at the rate of one cent per gallon, to match the road oil sold by the said Ulster Bituminous Company" to various towns of the county. These vouchers, endorsed by Ryan were cashed at the Kingston Trust Company.

The indictments alleged the following expense vouchers were drawn and cashed:

August 19, 1953, $135.21, matching 13,521 gallons of road oil sold to Town of Olive between May 22 and July 10, 1953.

September 10, 1953, $105.05, matching 10,505 gallons of road oil sold Town of Olive between June 29 and August 19, 1953.

September 9, 1953, $434.89, matching 43,489 gallons of road oil sold Town of Marlborough between April 24 and July 10, 1953.

October 7, 1953, $192.35, matching 19,235 gallons of road oil sold Town of Exopus between May 12 and July 17, 1953.

August 25, 1954, $429.44, said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russia and the Western Allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

Eisenhower prefaced that remark by saying he was violating everything he had said earlier regarding the Berlin situation. He apparently was alluding to earlier remarks that the United States always consulted with its allies before expressing an opinion regarding Soviet proposals.

At one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the Premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Up to State Action

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment. He was talking about the possibility of continued federal participation in a temporary program of benefits which was put into effect last year. That temporary program expires at the end of this month.

ECONOMY — A newsman, asking Eisenhower's comment, said some economists believe the automobile and steel industries are keeping their prices up deliberately, even though demand for their products is down, resulting in a sort of administered inflation.

The President replied that it is a matter he did not care to discuss off the cuff—that he would want to confer with his economic advisers.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

Traces of Irritation

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up 5, 7 or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Why, he inquired, don't they have the courage to call for a tax rise?

SOVIET STRATEGY — A reporter said Eisenhower had been quoted as telling congressional leaders last week that he believes Soviet strategy is to try to induce the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy.

Eisenhower replied that he does not think that is applicable to the current Berlin situation. But as for the long run picture, the President said it isn't necessary to quote him — you can quote the Communists.

They know, he said, that the first enterprise system can't endure without being solvent.

Raid 2 Gangster Homes, No Trace Of Jewels Found

LONDON (AP) — Flying squads from Scotland Yard raided the homes of two London gang leaders early today but no trace was found of Lady Norah Docker's missing $420,000 worth of jewels.

The two underworld figures had been spotted in Southampton Monday night a few hours before the jewels were stolen in the port city from the Dockers' parked Rolls Royce.

Homes of suspected fences also were raided. The detectives prodded furniture, poked around the floorboards, tapped the walls, peered up chimneys and dipped

Squillante, Aides Out of Prison Fast

OSSENING, N. Y. (AP) — Only 19 days after they entered Sing Sing Prison here, former garbage collection czar Vincent (Jimmy) Squillante and two associates were released on bail pending appeal.

Squillante, his brother Nunzio, and Bernard Adelstein were convicted at Mineola Dec. 19 of shaking down Long Island store owners who refused to do business with Squillante-controlled firms. Their lawyers presented new evidence in their extortion case, and filed an appeal. Nunzio's bail was set at $25,000, the other two at $50,000 each.

Bail was met, and the trio was released Tuesday night.

Squillante, who once headed a 50-million-dollar-a-year-garbage disposal operation in New York City and Long Island, began serving a 7½ to 15 year sentence Feb. 19. Adelstein, business agent of a teamsters local, got 5 to 10 years, and Nunzio 2 to 5 years.

More than 15 million hens in New Jersey lay more than two billion eggs a year.

Stone Ridge

Scout News

The Girl Scout Neighborhood Association met Friday, 8 p. m. at Mrs. Peter Knudsen's home, Stone Ridge.

Attending were Mrs. Peter Knudsen, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Jerry Blair, district director; Mrs. Lawrence Coddington, secretary and leader; Mrs. Robert Schumate, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Miller, leader; Mrs. Mae Hind, leader; Mrs. Edward Green, leader and troop organizer; Mrs. Myrtle Muller, committee member; Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, troop consultant; Mrs. Alexander Sperryak, leader and Mrs. Joseph Lucas, committee member.

High Falls and Stone Ridge troops are going to try and find sponsors and obtain troop flags. Marbletown-Rosendale District is planning to participate in the Hudson-Champlain celebration by planting flowers.

Plans are being made for a leaders' training school at the Marbletown elementary school within the next couple months. The program will consist of eight hours training divided into a four or eight week period with training one night a week. Anyone interested may contact anyone of the Neighborhood Association.

Cookies will be delivered next week.

The annual dinner will be in the New Hurley Church, New Hurley, April 7. Dinner will be at 6:30 p. m. and the meeting will be at 8 p. m. All reservations must be called to Mrs. Peter Knudsen before March 30. All registered members may attend, especially those receiving year pins and window display awards.

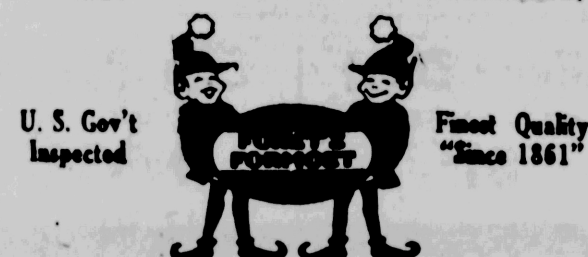

Camp Wendy will open July 5 for three two-week periods. Leaders may be found on school bulletin boards and most public places in the vicinity. Before the camp opens there will be a family weekend and all may help with the preparations for opening the camp.

Police Name Two

Vice Raids Net Call Girl, Madam

NEW YORK (AP)—Police raided a Fifth Avenue hotel and an expensive West Side apartment Tuesday night and arrested a red-haired former model on charges of being a $100-a-night call girl.

Police said they found the 27-year-old girl in bed at the hotel with an out-of-state corporation executive in his 60s.

Police barged in through an unlocked door and began taking pictures. They said both were undressed. The reason for the picture-taking, which is not unusual in such cases, was not disclosed.

In the West Side apartment police arrested a 58-year-old woman they said was the madam of a 20-girl ring of 'high-priced' call girls. Her apartment covered an entire floor and cost $550 a month. She said she was a former Ziegfeld Follies girl.

The younger woman was identified by police as Mrs. Nancy Dowling. She was charged with loitering for the purpose of prostitution.

The other woman, Miss Betty Williams, was charged with procuring and maintaining a place of prostitution.

Police said they had tapped the two telephones in the apartment and that Mrs. Dowling was sent to the hotel only after Miss Williams had been unable to reach several other girls.

Police quoted Mrs. Dowling as saying her only purpose in the hotel room was to be "wined and dined."

The man was not identified by police. He will be subpoenaed as a witness in the case.

Lean vs. Fat

MADISON, Wis. (AP) Jack Sprat and his wife might welcome two new methods of measuring fat and lean. Of particular value to the swine breeder are the "back fat probe" and the

"lean meter," according to University of Wisconsin meat specialist Robert W. Bray. The "lean meter," developed by Purdue University, has a small needle wired to a meter. Impulses from the needle, thrust into the hog back, make the meter register depth of fat. Cheaper to use is the "back fat probe." A small, painless slit is made in the hog's back, and a small ruler is inserted to measure depth of fat over the seventh rib, an area indicative of the average fat covering the hog.

KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Many interesting items have arrived, on foot, by mail and over the phone. W. L. Burnett, owner of DeWitt Lake Park, where it is said, the mountains of Shawangunk meet the Catskills, writes in part when he reached his mountain of pines, DeWitt Lake, telephone calls were coming in about the item which appeared about his place in this column. One call came from New York City, a member of a camp held some years ago here. They ran it some 17 years without mishap such as drowning, Mr. Burnett writes.

Received a very nice note from Miss Pauline Hommel, who is the author of book, "Tea-Cup Tales." A number of readers from as far as Florida are interested in her book since seeing it in this column. I am sure her books will travel many miles in all directions as time goes on. She noted, that autographed copies can be had in town.

There are some 25 short stories in her book, all full of suspense and mystery, a fine gift that will be appreciated by young and old. It is written in excellent English, as Miss Pauline Hommel has been a school teacher for many years and her interest in folklore and history started a long time ago. A student studying local history will find her stories instructive and entertaining. Many of her titles would fit into a modern TV movie: "The Black Rider: The Face in the Window," "What Became of the Sentry? The Tale of the Murdered Slave Girl," and others.

Dropping in the city hall to pay taxes the other day, I said "Hello!" to Walter S. Foster, deputy city clerk, at which time he said, "How do you like that? I found it in the attic." It was a large painting of the Clermont replica that stood in the lagoon in our Kingston Point Park. It is unsigned so perhaps some of the readers know who painted it. I take it, it was painted during the famous WPA days when so many artists and authors had a chance to eat and turn out some fine artistic and literary works. Many of them have achieved success since then and their works of art especially have been worth a great deal of money. The artist who painted that Clermont did it in sort of "geometric style" as Harry Rigby Jr. put it and seemed to enjoy painting the wooden parts of the ship. Perhaps someone can give us some information on that picture and the artist.

Harry Rigby Jr. told me that they planned a sort of a "home coming" June 5, 6 and 7 for this "Year of History" and that the Senate House plans to have an exhibit of group class day photographs, going back to about 1915. If possible the names will be given of those in the picture. Group pictures are always interesting if names of those in the group are given. Time makes so many changes in people that it is often sheer guess work who they are after 25 or more years. Rigby also is interested to know if anyone related through the years to those taking part in the "Proclamation of the State Constitution" in 1777 in front of the Court House, Wall Street would come forth and perhaps take part in the coming celebrations. They may be related on the mother's side to the men taking part in the 1777 historical event, therefore their change of name through the years. Look into your family history. It would be interesting if some relations were found of that event.

Burning Up the Road

CHICAGO (AP) — On a cold day in the Chicago area, one of the hottest stretches of highway is the 22-lane toll plaza of the new Calumet Skyway bridge.

Beneath the concrete is an underground radiator that heats an area of about 58,000 square feet whenever ice or snow make the pavement slippery. Hot oil is circulated through a network of welded pipes developed by the Tube Turns Division of Chemtron Corp.

REACH NATIONAL MERIT FINALS—Three seniors at Kingston High School have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship Program and have been awarded certificates of merit. Some 700 of the finalists will be named merit scholars this spring. These 700 and the colleges they have chosen will share in $3.5 million in merit scholarship funds offered by more than 80 organizations and individuals. Winners will be determined in a final judging now in progress. KHS seniors among the 700 are (l to r) Jerome Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Singer, 118 Foxhall Avenue; Bonnie Streifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Streifer of Hurley, and Philip Gillen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Gillen of 16 Derrenbacher Street. These seniors distinguished themselves with high scores on the two college aptitude tests used in the competition. About six-tenths of one per cent of the seniors in each state receive the awards. A national total of 10,000 students were honored and are eligible for the awards. This number has been pared down from more than 478,000 students who took the examinations. In addition to the finalists, letters of commendation were awarded to Marise Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swan of Port Ewen, and Stephen Zang, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zang, 83 West Chestnut Street. Taxpayers Reminded To Retain Copies

A reminder to Federal income taxpayers to retain copies of tax returns filed during the current period was issued today by District Director A. O'Hara.

The tax official pointed out that the copies will be an aid in the preparation of future tax returns and will help in those instances where a claim for refund may be filed in a subsequent year.

Books and records which contain source data from which tax returns are prepared should also be retained by the taxpayer. The law does not prescribe any particular kind of records. The records should, however, be systematic and accurately reflect the income, deductions, credits and other items required to be shown on the return. All receipts, canceled checks and other evidence of an amount claimed as a deduction should be kept for so long as they become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law.

Sea Food

HONOLULU (AP)—There's a lot of food in the ocean, but a scientist says the chances that you'll get to eat much of it are slim. "It'd be better to mow your own lawn and eat the grass," advises marine biologist Albert J. Bernatowicz. "And cheaper." The University of Hawaii scientist pointed out that a column of water one yard by 100 feet would contain only about 1/4 of a pound of vegetable matter even though the oceans catch far more solar energy than does the earth.

Rochester Town Discusses Plans For Civil Defense

Civil Defense plans for the town of Rochester were discussed at the meeting of the town board, which was held Wednesday, March 4, instead of the usual date, due to attendance of justices of the peace at the Ulster County Magistrates Association classes at the Chambers School on the regular monthly meeting night.

Hyman Banks, Civil Defense director, spoke on making surveys of the towns, establishing "welfare centers" and other necessary work which the township must be prepared to do in the event of need, evacuations of New York City. Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger said he was planning a public meeting on Civil Defense in the near future.

There was a full attendance of the board members and also attending the meeting was Superintendent of Highways Richard T. Gray. Mrs. Davis Marshall, Charles Freeman and Civil Defense Director Hyman Banks.

Supervisor Terwilliger's report showed a balance in the General Fund of $10,302 and in the Highway Fund $27,332.96. Town Clerk

Elsie E. Rider Smith reported total receipts for the month of February of $1,074.72. Collector LeRoy C. Kelder turned in his report and check for fees in the amount of $72.03. Claims in the sum of $74.95 were audited and ordered paid from the General Fund.

Communications were read by Supervisor Terwilliger and there were discussions on several matters pertaining to town activities.

Palenville Driver Is Fined $95 on Charges

Arnold Fuller, 21, of Palenville, has been fined a total of $95 on five traffic charges.

Fuller was arrested at his home Monday by state police on charges of reckless driving, possession of an altered driver's license, speeding, crossing a double solid line and failing to keep to the right.

Arraigned before Justice of Peace George Carl in Catskill, Fuller pleaded guilty to all charges.

Fuller allegedly forced a state police car off a Catskill area highway last week during a chase. No one was injured.

Rocky Signs Bill Designed to Hike N. Y. Milk Sales

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A bill designed to boost milk sales was signed today by Gov. Rockefeller. It exempts milk-vending machines from the Agriculture Department's licensing requirements. The legislation was sponsored by Sen. Henry A. Wise and Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, Jefferson County Republicans.

So far, the Republican governor has approved 59 bills. Almost 8,000 have been introduced, and once Rockefeller's budget is passed, work is expected to speed up.

Votes Insurance Bill

Rockefeller Tuesday vetoed his first bill since taking office Jan. 1. He rejected a measure that would have declared, as public policy, that insurance rates should provide for "fair and reasonable compensation" for insurance agents and brokers.

The bill, which would have directed the state insurance superintendent to fix such rates, was sponsored by Sen. Elisha T. Barrett (R-Suffolk County).

Rockefeller maintained that the measure would touch off endless litigation challenging the superintendent's findings.

Would Speed Fire Checks

Meanwhile, the Assembly approved and sent to the Senate measures to speed fire inspections in schools and to assure positive identification of kidnapped babies.

The fire measure, sponsored by John T. Satriale (D-Bronx), would require inspection of schools for fire hazard by Sept. 15 each year. The present deadline is Dec. 1.

Satriale said the bill stemmed from a Chicago parochial school fire that claimed more than 90 lives.

Assemblyman John Di Leonardo (R-Queens) sponsored the bill that would require hospitals to foot-print new-born babies to assure positive identification.

Behind the bill, he said, are recent cases in New York City when kidnappers claimed the victims as their own children.

Another Assembly-approved bill dealt with permanent personal registration.

This provides that persons who change their addresses would have to re-register. Now, persons who move within the same election district need not register again.

Proof Positive

HAMPTON, S. C. (AP)—Mrs. Eloise Goreau had an unlikely explanation when husband Ted asked how one fender of their car became dented.

"A house ran into it," she said. It was true.

A house mover was moving a small house down a street and a corner of the house hit the car, parked in front of the Goreau home.

State Asks Plane Service Start in 5 Different Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board was asked today to inaugurate airline passenger service in five New York State areas.

Claude B. Friday, director of the New York State Bureau of Aviation, called for the start of service at Jamestown, Olean, Oneonta, Westchester County and on Long Island.

He said recommendations made by a CAB examiner last year to increase airline service in the state "would eliminate major weaknesses in the short-haul network. He added:

"The decision failed, however, to recommend certification of vital new routes in New York areas where such service is not now available.

"The future growth of commerce and industry in New York State is dependent on the development of a complete system of air routes in which all our communities are served properly."

Presents Statistics

He made the remarks in a statement prepared for delivery at a hearing in the CAB's investigation of air service in northeastern states.

The Bureau of Aviation, a segment of New York's Commerce Department, has pressed for additional air routes for the state throughout the two-year investigation.

Friday presented a list of particulars he said proved the need for service in the five areas now without an airline.

Jamestown, he said, must rely upon connections at Buffalo making one-day trips to Upstate cities and New England impossible. He said Jamestown should be a stop on a Cleveland-Syracuse route.

Olean, Friday continued, recently completed a $750,000 airport and with a minimum of 10 passengers a day is "clearly entitled to airline service so important to its economic well being."

Fly Over Area Now

Planes of Mohawk Airlines now fly directly over Oneonta, an area of 78,000 persons which is more than five hours from New York City by surface transportation, Friday said. The nearest airport is in Broome County 60 miles away. "hardly an attractive situation to encourage air travel," he added.

Oneonta could produce an estimated 6,000 passengers annually if service were supplied to Upstate cities and New York City, Friday said.

Friday urged airline service on Long Island and in suburban Westchester County because of congested ground conditions.

Blind Spots in All Systems

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Every building system has its blind spots. What should North bid after South's one heart response to his opening club? A raise to two hearts is an underbid, a raise to three hearts an overbid and anything else is just silly.

This particular North jumped to three and South went cheerfully on to game. He would have passed over a single raise.

South was rather disappointed in the dummy but as North remarked, "Those are the cards I was dealt."

Strangely enough there was no lead or defense that would beat the four-heart contract.

South took dummy's ace of diamonds and led a small club. East went up with the ace and shot the jack right back. When it held he played king and another diamond.

South ruffed in dummy, cashed dummy's ace and king of spades, ner's and some shirts and a vacuum cleaner, were taken from their house Monday evening.

Police found two empty cash boxes, the shirts and the vacuum cleaner on the roof of a shed a few blocks away.

The two told police that the money, in small bills, was kept in a first-floor closet. They said the thief took it while they were taking a nap upstairs. The front door was unlocked.

Police said the widow apparently saved the money over many years from insurance policies, pensions and the sale of a house. Feltner is an unemployed railroad worker.

$14,000 Is Stolen From Widow Who Was to Buy Home

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A burglar reportedly stole $14,000 from a 72-year-old widow, who told police she had been saving the money to buy a new house.

Mrs. Mamie Maierhofer and her stepson, Arthur Feltner, 45, reported the theft Tuesday. They said the money, plus $500 of Felt-

Bob Maines Leaves for Cubs' Training Camp at Mesa, Arizona

Ex-KHS Lefty Is Signed for Class B Contract

Bob Maines, former Kingston High School and New York-New Jersey pitching ace, leaves for Mesa, Arizona today for spring training with the Chicago Cubs. Maines has been assigned to Class B contract with Burlington, Iowa, of the Three-Eye-League, but was requested to report in advance of the Cubs' camp.

BOB MAINES

minor league contingent for a closer inspection. The Cubs have promised Maines he will be assigned as high as his showing in camp warrants.

Tall and rangy, Maines is a carbon copy of Bob Grove in his rookie days. He possesses a blazing fast ball and uncanny control for a southpaw.

NY-NJ Strikeout King

During the 1958 NY-NJ season, Maines was strikeout king of the circuit with 96 Ks in 58 1/3 innings. His pitching "line" reflected a tremendous performance, with only 33 hits, 22 runs and 39 bases on balls.

Maines and Ronnie Ashdown were signed by the Cubs two years ago, but Maines never reported. Ashdown went to spring training, and was assigned to a Class C contract but later quit. He is now in service.

Maines pitched in area circles last season and his brilliant strikeout exploits attracted the attention of several major league scouts, but under baseball law he remained the property of the Cubs and decided to take the thing this year.

DUSO Coaches Pick All-Star Cage Squads

LeRoy Riley was an unanimous choice for the All-DUSO Coaches' team, as selected by the nine cage mentors in the circuit. The Newburgh Free Academy star center was the only player selected unanimously.

The coaches agreed with three of the other selections of the DUSO Sportswriters' association, selecting Jack Conan of Newburgh, Kingston's Joe Uhl and Dick DePew of Poughkeepsie. However, the coaches placed Josh Gerow of Liberty on the first team instead of John Barber of Middletown. He was placed on the second team.

The coaches placed three players, Ben Davis, Ellenville; Leo Armstead, Monticello and Tom Lane, Liberty, on the second team while the Sportswriters had those players on the honorable mention list. Bill Poppo of Port Jervis was picked by both groups for a second team position. Charley Williams, Kingston; Bob Boschen, Poughkeepsie and Wyane Ramich, Port Jervis, received honorable mention ratings from the coaches. The Sportswriters made them second team members.

Others on the honorable mention list of the coaches are John Kelly, Kingston; Bob Kunis, Fallsburgh; Jeff Rosen, Middletown; John Anthony, Monticello; Harry Boyd, Port Jervis; Ben King, Newburgh.

MJM Quintet Completes Perfect Season

Rout Red Hook On Local Boards For 10th Straight

Myron J. Michael Junior High annihilated a weakened Red Hook squad, 60 to 16 last night to complete an undefeated season with 10 straight victories.

While the Dutchess cagers were unable to hit double figures in any period, Coach Ronnie Cole's overcame a lethargic start to go ahead 30-8 at the half and outscore the visitors, 30-8, after the recess.

Tom Florio paced Kingston with 13 points, Frank Allen hit 12 and Ronnie Thomas had 10, as the MJM team hit 34 per cent of their shots. Red Hook posted a mediocre 13 per cent, but was forced to play without the service of the team's star, Smith, who scored 20 points in a previous game.

Allen Tops Scorers
Frank Allen racked up 133 points to pace the team with a 13.3 average for the 10-game schedule. Tom Florio was a close runnerup with 12.5. Jack Lewis led in the rebound department with an average of 15 per game. The score:

Kansas State Is First In Final AP Cage Poll

By a vote as close as the score in a double-overtime game, Kansas State Wednesday was named as the nation's No. 1 basketball team by the sports writers and broadcasters participating in the season's final Associated Press poll.

The Kansas State Wildcats, high up in the balloting all season, edged Kentucky, the defending National Collegiate champion, by the margin of nine points.

Mississippi State, which beat out Kentucky for the Southeastern Conference title, moved up to third place in the final voting. Bradley, runner-up in the Missouri Valley Conference, took fourth over champion Cincinnati by two points. North Carolina State, Michigan State, Auburn, North Carolina and West Virginia, in that order, completed the top 10 in the rankings.

The count was based as usual, on 10 points for each first-place vote, nine for second, etc., down to one for 10th. A total of 120 writers and broadcasters cast ballots in the final poll.

Here's the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season. First place and won-lost record, including Tuesday night, in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Kansas State (36) (24-1)	981
2. Kentucky (33) (23-2)	972
3. Mississippi St. (20) (24-1)	760
4. Bradley (8) (23-3)	663

Port. Clarkstown Win B Division Sectional Tilts

Port Jervis of the DUSO league and Clarkstown of the Rockland County league won Section Nine B division tournament cage games last night.

In the C-D division, Delaware Valley advanced with Marlboro to the semi-finals.

The Porters had 56 points from the threesome of Bill Pepper, Wayne Ranich and Harry Boyd as they slaughtered Cornwall, 82-41. Pepper was the leader with 22 markers. The game, played at the New Paltz High court, was a rout all the way for Coach Pat Farrace's Raiders.

Clarkstown thumped Monticello, the DUSO league's number two village squad, 61-42, at Haverstraw-Stony Point school. Leo Armstead, who village observers thought was snubbed from a spot on the All-DUSO team, was held to eight points, his second straight game under double figures.

Delaware Valley won a 46-31 decision over Tuxedo of the Orange County league at the Orange County Community college, Middletown. Marlboro downed Livingston Manor of the Western Sullivan loop, 46-36, at Fallsburgh.

In B division semi-finals Friday night, Port Jervis will meet Warwick at Ellenville and Ontario, the UCL champion, will play Clarkstown at New Paltz High school. The winners will clash Friday, March 20 in the finals.

The C-D division schedule finds Delaware Valley meeting Tappan Zee in a 7:30 encounter Friday night and Marlboro playing Otisville at 9 p. m. with both contests slated for the college gym in Middletown. The winners will clash March 17, at the Orange County gym.

Report Cervi Ready to Quit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eddie Gottlieb, owner of the last-place Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn., was to meet today with Coach Al Cervi, who is reported ready to call it quits.

Gottlieb said Tuesday he would "neither confirm nor deny" the report until he had a chance to talk it over with Cervi. The Warriors were due home today after winning their last game of the season, 192-94, against Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Play Continues In Y Tourney At Poughkeepsie

Two first round games are slated tonight as play continues in the 16th annual YMCA Hudson Valley Basketball tournament in Poughkeepsie.

Main Grill of Poughkeepsie will face Colburn of Red Hook in the 7:15 curtain raiser. In the second contest, the New Paltz Jays will clash with the Middletown YMCA.

The Grillmen feature Jim Hopper and Chuck Ropes of Beacon and Bob Litwiler and Clem Caprara of Poughkeepsie. They should handle the Red Hook club which is primarily a young one.

New Paltz is composed of the State Teachers' college players and should prove too much for the Middletown club, which is led by Jim Merritt, former DUSO league player of the year. The first ranked Pine Plains Bombardiers move into action Friday night against the Silver Dollar Restaurant of Poughkeepsie. Bossman George Stuetzle has Ronnie Scheffel, Frank Koenig, Dick Tyler, Garfy Mendez and Gary Holway expected to see action.

NBA Plays Finales

The National Basketball Assn. season comes to a close tonight with the Detroit Pistons at Minneapolis in a preview of their first playoff game scheduled for Saturday.

In the only other game, the St. Louis Hawks, champions of the Western Division, wind up their season against the Nationals at Syracuse.

Tuesday night at Boston the New York Knickerbockers defeated the Celtics, Eastern division champs, 138-116, in the finale for both clubs. In another game, the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Royals at Cincinnati, 102-96, ending the season for those teams.

Syracuse plays the Knicks in New York Friday night in the opener of their best-of-3 playoff On Saturday, Detroit tackles the Lakers in Minneapolis in the first tilt of their semifinal playoff.

New York built up a 66-52 lead at halftime, and coasted to victory over the crippled Celtics who were minus the services of Jim Loscutoff, Tommy Heinsohn and Gene Conley.

Bob Cousy scored 37 points for Boston. Kenny Sears and Richie Guerin each scored 22 points for New York.

Jack Twyman scored 26 points for Cincinnati, while Andy Johnson got 20 to lead the Warriors.

Katrine Club Will Send Two Boys to Conservation Camp

Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club has voted to send two boys to the DeBruce Conservation Camp at De Bruce for the first time.

For the past several years the club has sent one boy to De Bruce, but because of the enthusiasm shown in recent years, it was decided to send two.

Douglas Eighty of Kingston represented the club last year. The two boys will be selected at the May meeting. The camp operates during the month of August. All members are urged to submit the names of candidates at the May meeting.

Other business transacted at last night's meeting was the adoption of the current dues schedule and the showing of a film dealing with activities of the Trailsweepers Ski Club of Kingston. The film was furnished by John Cerasaro, was taken by Daniel Morehouse of Lake Katrine and narrated by Abe Molyneux. Scenes of ski slopes at Phoenicia, Belleayre, Stowe, Vt., and several other sites featured action shots of several local skiers.

Club president, Peter Lemister, has asked all members to report to the club preserve Saturday at 9:30 a. m., to assist in cutting brush and preparing shelter and cover for game refuge. Axes will be standard equipment for the day.

Plans are already under way for the planting of waste spots to help preserve the wild life at the preserve.

Smoky Burgess in New Key Role for Pirates

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Smoky Burgess now is in the Pittsburgh Pirates, where as catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates he removes some of the pressure on Ed Bailey, the big Cincinnati Reds receiver. Bailey was a disappointment last season when he hit only .250 in 112 games. He may have been somewhat off balance knowing Burgess was waiting in the wings. Burgess appeared in 99 games in 1958, and usually caught the second game of a doubleheader.

Burgess was sent to Pittsburgh in the deal that brought Frank Thomas, the Pirates' demon third baseman, to Cincinnati.

Cincinnati and Kansas City were 0-0 after six innings Tuesday in their exhibition game at West Palm Beach, Fla., when Bailey walked a 3-run homer off Ralph Terry that gave the Reds a 4-3 victory over the Athletics. Whitey Herzog hit a 3-run homer for the A's in the last half of the seventh.

Cubs in First Win

The Chicago Cubs registered their first Cactus League victory in three games by defeating the Cleveland Indians 9-3 at Mesa, Ariz. The Cubs scored five runs in the first inning off Cal McLish, the Indians' 16-game winner. Tony Taylor, Cubs second sacker, hit 3-for-3.

Milwaukee and the New York

Yankees met at St. Petersburg, Fla., and the Braves made it two in a row over the world champions, winning 5-2. Whitey Ford held the Braves to one hit in three innings, but Milwaukee got three runs off Tom Sturdivant in the fifth. Hank Aaron homered for the Braves in the eighth. Andy Carey's two-run homer in the seventh saved the Yankees from a shutout.

The Boston Red Sox won their third straight, thumping the San Francisco Giants 8-2 at Phoenix, Ariz. Frank Malzone, Boston third baseman, drove in four runs with two hits.

Tigers Top Dodgers

At Lakeland, Fla., the Detroit Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 when Johnny Groth's sacrifice fly scored Ossie Alvarez in the seventh inning.

In another close one at Tampa, Fla., the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

Two rookies, Jim McDaniel and Rocky Nelson, singled in the seventh inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates tallied three runs to down the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Home runs by Julio Becquer, Rene Berioia and J. W. Porter powered the Washington Senators to a 6-5 night victory over Baltimore at Miami. The Orioles almost pulled the game out with three runs in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Mantle Stays Back With Sore Shoulder

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle stayed at the New York training camp today nursing a sore shoulder while the Yankees trekked to Orlando for an exhibition game with the Washington Senators.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, club physician, ordered Mantle to take it easy for three or four days after the $50,000 centerfielder apparently aggravated his right shoulder throwing to first base during an exhibition game with the Milwaukee Braves Monday.

Mantle came out for batting practice Tuesday, and reported his shoulder was bothering him again. He injured it in the third game of the 1957 World Series when he collided with Red Schoendienst in a play at second base. The shoulder bothered him at times last year.

Gaynor sent Mickey to the hospital for X-rays, which proved negative.

"I told him he could work out, but not to throw the ball for several days," Gaynor said.

The injury hampered Mickey last spring and the switch-hitter couldn't bat lefthanded without pain. In June he was given treatments, and apparently the trouble was corrected.

Paris says belts are back in fashion in a big way. This follows the return of the normal waistline. Daytime belts are about two inches wide and evening belts wider.

UCAL Cagers Set to Play Otisville

It took Marlboro High School players more than a half to get the feel of the Fallsburgh gym last night. However, they got rolling in the third quarter and overcame a 12 point half time deficit to top Livingston Manor of the Western Sullivan League, 46-36, and vault into the semi-finals of the C-D division of the Section Nine tournament.

Coach Joe Cash's cagers will play Otisville, Orange County C-D champion, at the Orange County Community college at 9 p. m., Friday. Otisville has a 15-1 record for the season and will be favored to turn back the UCAL club.

While star center Sam Mandia was held to only nine points, Bob Sullivan and Brian White picked up the slack for Marlboro. Sullivan had 14 points in a good performance while White had 12 for the winners.

A combination of a long bus trip and a new gym hurt the winners and they could muster but four points in the first quarter and had only 12 at halftime while trailing, 24-12. However, they poured 22 points through the hoop in the third period and won going away.

Werner Wustrau rimmed 27 points in a shiny performance and his Accord teammates neared the YMCA B division crown with a 56-25 win over Texaco last night. In another circuit tilt, Amato's nipped the Byrnes Chevvies, 34-32.

With Wustrau hitting from all angles of the court the Accord five was never headed. The league leaders jumped to a 16-6 first period margin, made it 27-16 at halftime and then coasted.

A long set shot by Jim Ferraro with 1:12 to play and a foul shot by Richy Amato with 18 seconds left gave Amato's its tight win over the Chevvies. Ferraro had 11 points to lead the winners.

The standings now show Accord with a 10-2 mark to lead the pack. 35 Club is second with 8-3 followed by Royal Grill 8-4. Minute Car Wash 7-5, Amato's 6-7, Byrnes Chevvies 5-7, Kernhonsen 4-7, Texaco 4-9 and Pride Cleaners 3-9.

Katsbaan Five Gets Win Over Backs, 49-47

Katsbaan Tavern finished its season in the A division of the YMCA Basketball League with a 13-2 mark after nipping Backs, 49-47, last night. The losers finished with five wins and 10 losses in circuit play.

Though playing without Ronnie Schreffel, Yip Koenig and Buddy Smith, the Katsbaan five managed to rally in the final quarter to cop the win. Rags Morrissey had 18 points in a sparkling show. Frank Ebelheiser canned 14 and Bob Price 13 for the losers.

NCAA Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unsung Navy stood out today as the team to watch — if not the team to beat — as the NCAA basketball tournament moved toward its weekend regional doubleheaders at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and San Francisco.

On a night when West Virginia won its first NCAA tournament game in five years of trying, Navy emerged with most of the attention after beating North Carolina, 76-63.

The Middles, as well balanced and finely tuned as a machine, simply dismantled Frank McGuire's rebuilt Tar Heels in the windup of a first round Eastern regional tripleheader at Madison Square Garden.

West Virginia — an 82-68 winner over Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, and the Middles advanced to the second round with Boston University, Marquette and Louisville.

Jinx Ended

West Virginia scored its long-awaited victory — ending a jinx of four straight first round defeats, and Boston U. whipped Connecticut with a spectacular rally, 60-58, in other New York games. With St. Joseph's (Pa.), the Middle-Atlantic champ which drew a first round bye, the three winners set up camp at Charlotte Friday and Saturday to pick the Eastern region's representative for the national semifinals at Louisville, March 20.

Marquette whipped Bowling Green 89-71 and Louisville turned back Eastern Kentucky 77-63 in first round play in the Midwest regional at Lexington, Ky. They join defending NCAA champion Kentucky and Big 10 champ Michigan State in the Midwest wrapup at Evanston, Friday and Saturday.

With only one first round game remaining, New Mexico State vs. Idaho State at Las Cruces, N.M. tonight, the Friday regionals shape up this way:

Pairings

Eastern at Charlotte: West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.) (23-3); Boston U. (19-6) vs. Navy (17-5).

Mid-Eastern at Evanston: Louisville (17-10) vs. Kentucky (23-2); Marquette (23-4) vs. Michigan State (18-3).

Mid-Western at Lawrence, Kan.: Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3); DePaul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Far Western at San Francisco: St. Mary's (Calif.) (18-5) vs. New Mexico State-Idaho State winner; California (21-4) vs. Utah (21-5).

The four winners in Saturday's regional finals move into Louisville's Freedom Hall for the collegiate showdown March 20-21.

"Navy can go all the way in this tournament," said McGuire, who had won 20 of 24 games with a sophomore-junior team molded after his NCAA champions of two years ago were graduated. "They might run into trouble with a big team like Kansas State, but I'll bet Ben can find the answer. He usually does."

Ben is Ben Carnevale, the gray-haired Navy coach who formerly coached at North Carolina and is one of McGuire's closest friends.

The big scorers were Jay Metzler with 20 points and flame-haired

Dick Johnson with 16.

Small School Toughy

On the small school level, defending champ Tennessee A&I led an 8-game program that completed the two-day first round in the week-long NIAA tournament in Kansas City. Advancing with the champs were Youngstown, Westminster (Pa.) Lenoir Rhyne, Fairleigh-Dickinson, Illinois Normal, Southwest Texas, and Georgia Teachers.

The NCAA small college tourney goes into its quarter-final stage at Evanston, Ind., today with North Carolina A&T vs. American U., South Dakota State vs. Los Angeles State in afternoon games, and tonight, Hope (Mich.) vs. Southwest Missouri, and St. Michaels (Vt.) vs. Evansville.

Bradley in NIT Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley, beaten out by Cincinnati for the Missouri Valley Conference title, has been top seeded for the 12-team National Invitation Basketball Tournament opening at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The Braves, who finished second in the MVC although they split their two games with Cincinnati and snapped Cincinnati's 16-game winning streak last Saturday, will make their first start Saturday night.

Bradley, 1957 NIT champion, draws a bye as do the other three seeded teams, St. Louis, St. Bonaventure and Oklahoma City.

Butler meets Fordham and Villanova faces St. John's (N.Y.) in the opening NIT doubleheader.

The first round will be completed Saturday afternoon with Providence facing Manhattan and Denver playing New York U.

Bradley will play the Butler-Fordham winner in the first game of a quarter-final doubleheader Saturday night with St. Bonaventure meeting the Villanova-St. John's winner in the nightcap.

The quarter-finals will be completed with Oklahoma City against the Denver-NYU winner and St. Louis facing the Providence-Manhattan winner Tuesday night, March 17.

LOOK OUT—Keith Smith, left, and Benny Byrd failed away at each other with tightly shut eyes and the result was a lot of missed punches. They tangled in junior tournament in Dallas, March 17.

Mao's Successor Will Be Named April 17

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio indicated today that Mao Tse-tung's successor as president of Red China would be named at a "national people's congress" opening April 17 in Peiping.
The 65-year-old Mao stepped down as Red China's chairman— the equivalent of president—in December, but announced that he was keeping the more powerful job of head of the Communist party.

Cold, Snow Area Weather Outlook

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York—Cold weather is expected to continue with temperatures averaging 3 to 6 degrees below normal. Precipitation will be mostly snow, occurring at the beginning and again over the weekend, with 1/2 inch or more of water content. Weather conditions are expected to be a bit too rugged for best maple sap flow.

Western New York—Continued wintry weather with temperatures averaging a few degrees below normal. Snow, probably mixed with rain at the beginning, partial clearing Friday, followed by another general snow or rain over the weekend. Snow flurries and cold Monday. More than 1/2 inch of melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature Normals — Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from early morning lows of 15-22 in the north and in the 20s in the central and south portions, to afternoon highs in the 30s north and 38-42 in the south.

House Picture:

O'Brien Predicts Hawaii Statehood By 100-Vote Edge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statehood for Hawaii, an issue in Congress for 40 years, burst into full flame today as both Senate and House prepared to take up the bill.

With passage apparently assured, the big question was which chamber would win the race to act first to add a 50th star to the flag.

In the Senate, the Hawaii admission bill is co-sponsored by 36 senators, more than a majority. In the House, Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D-NY) of the Territories Subcommittee predicted a margin of 100 votes for the bill.
The House Rules Committee cleared the way Tuesday for House consideration of the measure under procedure allowing six hours of general debate in addition to time spent considering amendments. Action may come Thursday. The Senate arranged to take up the measure after disposing of a draft extension bill.

Drivers Pay Fines

Two drivers paid $30 in fines on speeding charges in city court last night and three others paid $20 on other counts. Dwight Day, of West Hurley was fined $15 on a charge of speeding after trial and the other driver fined for speeding was Frederick B. Jackson, of 11 Sycamore Street. Thomas E. Fuoco, of 60 Hanratty Street, was fined $10 as a second offender on a red light charge, and Herman Schneider, Grandview Avenue, and G. J. Christoforo, of Port Ewen, were fined $5 each on red light charges.

A Push From Fox

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—John B. Martin, Republican National committee man from Michigan, got a helping hand from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat and long-time political foe.
Martin's car was stuck in the snow in downtown Lansing Tuesday. The Governor, coming from a meeting, saw Martin's predicament and with three others got behind the car and pushed it free. "Just charge this up to the Republican State Central Committee," Williams said to Martin.

Recover Rapidly

Married men enter hospitals more frequently than bachelors, but husbands recover more quickly, according to a report of the U. S. Department of Health. Married men, the department says, get better medical attention before hospitalization.

VFW GETS $300 FOR HALL FROM AUXILIARY — Joyce-Schrick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which plans to expand its post home on Delaware Avenue has $300 more toward its building fund. Commander Frank Kolts is shown receiving check from his wife, who is making the presentation as president of the VFW Auxiliary. Plans call for a meeting and social hall as a wing on the former W. D. Brinier house, now the Joyce-Schrick Post home. (Freeman photo).

PORT EWEN NEWS

Plans Completed For Legion Post Birthday Party

Plans for the annual birthday party of Town of Esopus Post 1298 American Legion were completed at the regular meeting Tuesday night at the Post Home.

Chairman John Spinnenweber predicted a large turnout of Legionnaires and their friends to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the American Legion and to honor members of Post 1298 who have 40 years of continuous membership in the national organization. He said that reservations must be made by tonight for the affair at the Capri Saturday.

A letter from the conservation department indicated that a preliminary survey would be made relative to establishing a campsite in the township. The Esopus Post made a recommendation in January that a campsite be established in the township and suggested Twin Lakes area as a possible site. Letters regarding the request were received also from State Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson by Esopus Supervisor Roger Mabie.

Nominating Committee

The nominating committee for the selection of candidates for the next Legion year will consist of all past commanders. Chairman will be immediate past commander Burton W. Heldron.

Vice Commander Richard Williams will forward invitations to all organizations in the township to participate in the Memorial Day parade May 31. This year will mark the 14th consecutive year that Post 1298 has sponsored the event in honor of deceased veterans of past wars.

President of the Esopus Little League Chester W. Barth announced additional plans for the development of property adjacent to the Post Home for a Little League stadium. He thanked all members who have made the house numbering project a success and said that anyone still needing numbers may obtain them at Charlie's Texaco Station, Broadway.

He also expressed appreciation to members who have been clearing brush in preparation for the field survey.

League Opens May 9

Vice President Kenneth Bonville announced that this year's Little League will open May 9 and asked for help in putting Ross Memorial Park in good playing condition before that date. The league is being expanded to a five-team circuit for this season. A pancake supper will be held to benefit league funds on April 11.

A stewards' meeting will be held Thursday at the Post Home. Milton Tstisera requested a full attendance.
County Commander Edgar M. Maurer and Commander G. Knute Beichert expressed appreciation to Frank Auringer, membership chairman, and all members of the Post who have worked to give Esopus Post the highest membership in history.

Total membership announced at the meeting was 287, exceeding last year's total by four. The drive will continue until the end of the Legion year in June.

Edgar M. Ward reported that Unit 1298 Auxiliary will hold a card party at the Post Home Thursday, March 19, 8 p. m.

Events Scheduled

The Men's Candelin Bowling League will bowl tonight at the Reformed Church with teams 1 and 3 at 7 p. m., and teams 2 and 4 at 8:30 p. m.
The town board will meet at the town clerk's office at 8 p. m. tonight.

Thursday 8:30 p. m. the consistency of the Reformed Church will meet at the church hall.

Thursday 4 p. m. church choir

Watch That Plane! Pilot Charged With Careless Driving

NORRKOEPING, Sweden (AP)—A Swedish air force pilot has been charged with careless driving in a supersonic jet fighter.

A police report says the pilot came close to colliding with a Scandinavian airliner about 6,000 feet above the airport at Norrkoepping last Jan. 19.

Agudas Achim Selects Cantor Thursday Night

A meeting of congregation Agudas Achim will be held Thursday 8 p. m. at the vestry hall to consider the candidacy of Aaron Miller of New Haven, Conn., as permanent cantor.

Cantor Miller was introduced to board of directors at a meeting last Thursday at the Synagogue. Louis Alcon, president, was David Popick, Morris Cooper and Joseph Epstein.

Burton Feit and Leonard Rachmilowitz of Kingston and Herman Bernstein of Rhinebeck were accepted as new members of the congregation.

Committees appointed were Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport, Louis Alcon and Emanuel Lipton, hospitality, and Abraham Green, Jack Epstein and Jack Shenvold, publicity.

Kennedy Leading, But Stevenson Is In Picture Also

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Paul M. Butler, Democratic party national chairman, said Tuesday that according to polls, Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) leads the pack for the party nomination as president. But, he said, it's a long time before next year's party convention.

Butler told a news conference he was not writing off Adlai Stevenson as a candidate, but added that to get the nomination, a man must seek it.

"There are a lot of people who think you will have a chance to wear your Stevenson buttons again in 1960," he said. "In my opinion, the country has never had offered to it by either party a man so well qualified to be president as Stevenson."

Approval of Luce As Brazil Envoy May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee may delay until after Easter approval of Clare Boothe Luce's nomination as ambassador to Brazil.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) said that some of the members want to allow time for a "cooling-off" period before acting.

He said some members are concerned because of the publication in the Latin American edition of Time magazine of an article blamed for setting off anti-American rioting in Bolivia. Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce, is editor-in-chief of Time.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), chairman of the subcommittee on Latin American affairs, said he got the committee to postpone action "for the time being until the nomination can be given further consideration."

Long said he was not disposed to oppose confirmation as "Mrs. Luce is able and talented and there is no objection to her on the part of the Brazilian government."

"But I think she ought to use some of her diplomacy on her husband's magazine," he said.

Wrong Address Listed

The address of Philip Krajewski, 50, who was arrested Sunday on a third degree assault charge, is 11 Downs Street, and not 743 Broadway, as was first reported, police said. Krajewski was arrested by Joseph Natoli, 42, of RD 2, Box 79, Savkill, and the latter was arrested by Krajewski on a like charge. The latter at Kingston Hospital for treatment of a nose injury, was arrested when City Judge Aaron E. Klein and Krajewski's attorney, Sherwood E. Davis, visited the hospital this morning. He pleaded innocent. Both defendants are due in court tomorrow. Thomas F. Saccoman represents Natoli.

John Quincy Adams was the first U. S. president to wear long trousers to his inauguration.
